Home day care providers may also apply for funds to enhance the quality and availability of their services, but they must be registered by the state or have registration forms submitted to the state for approval at the time of request for funds, said Merrill.

Recent approved proposals were $500 for a family nutrition program for limited resources families sponsored by the Oregon State University extension office and $500 for a fall and winter wellness campaign for Riverside High School in Boardman.

CARD OF THANKS

It was Oct. 30th, a dark and stormy night. The moon was full and we called it "Fright Night." Ooo, baby! Were we...good?! This year I wanted a total different effect and I did it. I decided to do movie themes. First, Tricia Coe did an excellent job making the golf cart (donated by Bob and Suzanne Jepsen) into a hearse that took our visitors through the Haunted House. And to put this act in its place, we were graced by the morticians of Pat and Cameron Sweeney.

Each theme was sectioned off and our no. 1 actresses were Sheila Dunaway and Mindy Binschus playing "Psycho"; "Tales from the Crypt" played by Kyle McDaniel; Rhonda and Shawn Wilhelm in "Nightmare on Elm Street"; "Four years and going, Jake Roy and Corey Miller in "Frankenstein"; "King Kong" played by Trish Adams and Krista Adams; "Scarecrow" by Dave "Chip" Piper; and "Pumpkin Face" by Travis Bellamy. The "Stockades" were by Salli Calvert, Sibbea Jones and Paula Spicerkuhn; Lacey Matteson and Brett Barber as "Mummies"; and our finale was "Return of the Living Dead at the Dead Wedding"-man of horror, Travis Wilhelm, bride and groom, Jessie Maben and Josh Roy, maid of honor and best man, Brooke Boyer and Michael Schonbacher, guests of the wedding, "Brain-eating Zombies," Marcy Miller, Stephanie and Sheena Shank, Brad Bowman, Jodie Carlson, Claire Anderson, Meghan Bailey, Shelley Rietmann, Matt Young, Ariel Johnson, Darin Skaggs, Eva (not Griffith as mentioned last year) Chitty and Ivy Zimmerman; and the screaming "Skeleton" by Jerry Shank.

Thanks, Travis, for the last minute job. You did great! Joe Wilhelm's friend, Dave Ater, put in his two-cents...literally! Like I need more supervisors. And Sheila Dunaway, for last minute jobs and finding that wonderful spider.

I know I'm not mentioning everyone, but thank you to all that stayed to clean up and watch me cry. Jessie Maben, Josh Roy, Rhonda, Shawn and Marina Wilhelm, Ron and Brad Bowman, Darcy Coil, JoyceKay Holomon, Ken, Kaedene and Meghan Bailey, Marc, Tami and Shelley Rietmann, Corey and Marcy Miller, Casey Evans, Trish Adams, Sheila Dunaway, Mindy Binschus and Cousin Joe.

Last, but not least, I would like to say thank you to the two people who have made me happy in helping them the last four years and that I just want them to know "Imagination and Great Warped Minds" do think alike. Se ya in the Twilight Zone-Darcy Coil and Kaedene Bailey!

Kaedene Bailey, Maria Theis, Joe Miller, Tricia Coe and Joe and Marina Wilhelm for the many items given and lended, and happy to do so. You people helped make this such a success.

My patrolmen this year were Sid Kennedy, Leah McCarl, Gayle Gutierrez, Marina Wilhelm and the two I can't seem to shake off, Ken Bailey and Ron Bowman. I know you two want something...I just don't know what!

Setting up is always the hardest. It took two weeks to set it up and a hurtful three hours to take it down. I never could have done this great of a job without this crew-Joe, Marina and Shawn Wilhelm went above and beyond and came up with excellent ideas to accomplish "Fright Night." They spent countless hours helping me decorate and think of new and better ideas. We got to know each other better and we've made a wonderful friendship out of it. Thank you immensely. Leah Brosnan jumped right in and helped with decor and supplies and held watch at the front door. I've got her down for next year! Tricia Coe...girl...you got it goin'! Krista Adams to straighten me out and get me going in the right direction. So then I made her dig up tumbleweeds for two hours. The painting of the giant eyeball in a window sill was artistically done by Travis Wilhelm and supervised by big brother Shawn.

Thanks, Travis, for the last minute job. You did great! Joe Wilhelm's friend, Dave Ater, put in his two-cents...literally! Like I need more supervisors. And Sheila Dunaway, for last minute jobs and finding that wonderful spider.

I know I'm not mentioning everyone, but thank you to all that stayed to clean up and watch me cry.
