Cattlemen's trade show scheduled

The Oregon Cattlemen's Association (OCA) and Oregon Cattle Women Inc. annual trade show will be the largest in recent history, according to an OCA news release. The trade show will be a large component of the Cattlemen's annual convention at Bend, Nov. 20-22.

According to Lowell Hursh, associate council representative, "This year's trade show is drawing exhibitors from across the nation. All of the exhibitors are excited for the opportunity to bring their wares to Bend."

4-H News

Kool Kitchen Kids

By Blair Keithley
The Jr. Kool Kitchen Kids had their first meeting of the second year on Nov. 14. The meeting was held at leader Tami Rietmann's house.

The first order of business was to elect officers. The results were: president, Madison Bailey; vice president, Linsey Mitchell; secretary, Chelsea Britt; and news reporter, Blair Keithley. The other club members are Jode Coil, Shanna Rietmann and Kylee Disque.

Then members made snack pizzas out of refrigerator biscuits.

Today you know it was all worth it.

A good education prepares Oregon's children for tomorrow's challenges. The Oregon Lottery is proud to provide $1 out of every $10 that currently funds Oregon's public schools, helping make the future bright for our children.

It doesn't seem that long ago...
tears on the first day of school,
fear of not knowing anyone,
laughing with new friends,
bewildered by algebra,
practicing to make the team,
holding the future in his hands on graduation day.
