

Willow Creek Baptist holds VBS, revival in Heppner

The Willow Creek Baptist Church held a vacation Bible school for area young people and a revival series, including a concert, at the Heppner City Park last week.

Willow Creek Baptist Pastor Brent Waldrep and his wife, Jennifer, were assisted by local people as well as a group of young people from the Portland area. Matt Jacobson from Portland brought a group of seven high school and college youth from New Life Baptist Church in Portland who lived up the VBS and revival with drama and music. Jennifer Waldrep also provided vocals for the band.

Jacobson, 24, plays sax, guitar and keyboard. Jamey Collins, 23, who plays keyboard, mandolin and tenor guitar, performs with The Clinton Street Ceili Band, an Irish band in Portland. (Coincidentally, his great-grandfather came over to the U.S. from Ireland.) Also performing and assisting with the Bible school were Erin Erickson, 18, Sam Erickson, 13, Micah McIlvain, all Portland, Cammie Reyes, 15, Milwaukie, and Nate Smith, 16, Vancouver, all members of the youth group at New Life Baptist.

Hosts for the young people were Joey and Sandy Melhorn, Dr. Ernie and Susan Atkins and Laura and Kelly Sager.

Three other young people who are summer missionaries also assisted in the activities, Chrissy Hunt, New Jersey, Christena Michael, Idaho Falls, and Stephanie Ford, Orofino, Idaho.

The young people said that they enjoyed their time in Heppner and appreciated the time they spent "showing Jesus' love."

"I really appreciate the city letting us use the park," said Pastor Waldrep. "It's good we can provide some good activities for the kids."

Park District board to meet

The Willow Creek Park District will hold its regular board meeting on Wednesday, August 5, at 7 p.m. at Heppner City Hall.

Jennifer Waldrep (third from right), assisted by youth group members Erin Erickson and Cammie Reyes, leads Willow Creek Bible school children in a song, complete with hand motions, at the Heppner City Park.

"Celebrate Heppner" includes youth activities

"Celebrate Heppner" will include special events for Heppner's young people, beginning at 4 p.m.

Children from ages one through 12 are invited to participate with "Celebrate Heppner" chalk art. Each artist will receive instructions and chalk from Doris Brosnan at 4 p.m. at the Shamrock Intersection. Downtown will be divided into six sections for the drawings of groups aged 1-2, 3-4, 5-6, 7-8, 9-10, 11-12.

At 4:30 p.m., judges will look at the art work that should relate to the "Celebrate Heppner" theme. Each participant will receive a certificate, and one will also receive a small prize for the "Judge's Choice".

At 4:30 p.m. by the Shamrock Intersection, youngsters 3-4 and 5-6 will have an opportunity to search for coins tossed into two piles of straw. Each participant will receive a certificate of participation, as well as the coins he or she finds.

At 4:45 p.m., in the Shamrock Intersection, children ages one through six can participate in tricycle races. Participants must provide their own tricycle or push cycle. Each child will race with same-aged children, so there will be six races across the Shamrock. Each participant will receive a certificate, and the winner of each race will also receive a small prize.

Children are invited to participate in the celebration and bring their families to enjoy these and other activities into the evening.

Rules, regulations and entry forms which are attached, may be found at the following businesses: Heppner, at Gardner's Men's Wear and Green Feed and Seed; Lexington, at Temple's Veterinary Clinic and Morrow County Grain Growers; lone, at the post office;

Boardman, at Inland Empire Bank; and Irrigon, at Columbia River Tack.

The new premium book has all the information. If forms are not available from the above businesses, call 676-9664, or the fair office, 676-9474 and leave your name and address. One will be mailed to you.

All participants are cautioned to look over the rules and regulations carefully, as changes have been made, as well as new classes added.

Local girls excel at volleyball camp

Brooke Boyer and Amber Peck, both Heppner High School seniors this fall, attended volleyball camp at the Northwest Volleyball Clinic at LaGrande July 19-23. Around 240 girls attended the camp.

Peck, who was in the "Olympic League" at the camp, received the "hustler" award.

Boyer, who was in the "Pac 10" League, made the all-star team and received the "outstanding setter-leader" award.

St. Patrick's Senior Center Bulletin Board

There were 74 present for the senior dinner July 22 and 16 meals were home delivered. Members of the First Christian Church served. During the meal Dale Bates played his guitar, accompanied by Irene Anhorn at the piano. Blood pressures were taken before the meal. The Senior Center Board met following the meal and Bingo was played at 1 p.m. Bingo will be played on Friday evenings during August.

The menu for dinner Aug. 5 will be chicken casserole, tossed salad, fruit salad, rolls, lime sherbet and cookies. Members of the Nazarene and Seventh-day Adventist Churches will serve. On Thursday, Aug. 6, a new service will be provided by our cooks. The public is invited to join with the seniors at the salad bar luncheon from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Cost for those under age 60 is $4.75. The suggested donation for seniors over 60 years is $2. The menu for Aug. 6 will be cold cut sandwich bar, fruit/vegetable salad bar, bread and dessert. Volunteers are needed to help prepare and serve the food.

The last Friday breakfast will be July 31. The menu will be pancakes and sausage, hot or cold cereal, fruit, orange juice and milk. At 9 a.m., the children from vacation Bible school will sing.

Pinochle was played Tuesday and Friday afternoon. Exercise class is at 10 a.m. Tuesday and Thursday.

A new tenant moved into the senior apartments recently. The seniors welcome Jo Ann Fuller Krieger and hope that she will be very happy.

We extend deepest sympathy to Sue Vincent and her family on the death of her son.

Jane Rawlins underwent heart surgery at Providence St. Vincent in Portland last week. She was still in intensive care as of Monday morning. We wish her a speedy recovery. Velma Wight is taking her place in the Senior Center office while she is away.

The Nutrition Site Committee will meet following the dinner Aug. 5.

Doll Campbell's niece visited her from California last week.

The senior bus is scheduled to go to Boardman August 7. A potluck picnic will be held at the marina at noon. A sign up sheet is in the Senior Center office.

1998 Fair and Rodeo parade set

"One County, All Communities, Working Hand in Hand" is the theme of this year's Morrow County Fair, Rodeo and parade. This year's parade will be held Saturday, Aug. 22 and will begin at 10 a.m.

A number of entries have been received, but there is still time to enter. The many parade divisions include floats (commercial and community), antique autos (along with steam engines and tractors), riding groups, courts and royalty, and many more.

Registration will begin around 8:30 a.m. at Green Feed and Seed at the north end of town. The parade will travel down Main Street, turning toward the Morrow County Courthouse on May Street. Judging will begin at 9 a.m., with cash prizes and ribbons handed out prior to the parade.

Anyone interested in participating in the parade may contact Cara Osmin at 676-5816 or 676-9912.

Twister passes by Lexington

By Delpha Jones

A small twister cut through the Lexington area this week, causing damage to a trailer at Cutsforth Corners.

According to people at the scene, there was a horrible roar and a tree limb was driven right through the bedroom of the trailer.
