

HHS site council holds meeting

The Heppner High School Site Council, at their January 13 meeting, approved a request for technology teacher Dave Fowler to attend the Northwest Council For Computer Education Conference March 17-20 in Seattle.

The total cost, in addition to Fowler's professional development stipend, is $706. Because the council felt costs could be cut in the areas of hotel and mileage, it was agreed to allot five hundred dollars to Fowler. The council also requested that he do a presentation to the staff about the conference. It was suggested that money for this conference be put into the computer tech budget for next year.

In connection with the conference request, computer instruction for the HHS staff was discussed. Anthony agreed to get ideas from his staff as to the areas of instruction desired. These could then be scheduled into small, hands-on workshops on staff in-service days next year.

Sally Walker, HHS language arts instructor, gave a brief explanation of the Accelerated Reader Program. She then allowed council members to take actual Accelerated Reader quizzes on the computers.

Members present were Heppner High School Principal Ron Anthony, teachers Jason Just, Steve Brownfield, Tanya Scanlon and Juan Elguezabal, HHS staff member Ginger Bowman, Molly Rhea, April Sykes and Marianne Kahl. Also present, in addition to Walker, was advisory board member Kelly Merrill. Member Charlie Anderson was absent.

Parenting workshop slated

A workshop entitled "Love and Logic", focusing on parenting skills for parents with children from two through the teen years, has been scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 24, at 6:30 p.m. at the Family Resource Building above Coast to Coast in Heppner. "It will add a wealth of resource tools for the parent in dealing with all sorts of situations with their children," said Marilyn

Bader-Nesse, Morrow County Behavioral Health prevention specialist. "It will empower the parent and create a non-hostile environment for the family."

Presenter is Darwin Merrill, director of the Commission on Children and Families.

Everyone is invited to come and bring specific issues.

Day care will be provided for those in attendance.
