CSEPP contracts signed

In a regular board meeting held July 7, Umatilla County Commissioners awarded the contracts for "Shelter in Place kits" and "Meals Ready to Eat".

St. Vincent de Paul Rehabilitation Services, Inc. of Portland was awarded a $260,000 contract to produce and distribute 17,000 Shelter In Place kits for Umatilla County residents living near the Umatilla Chemical Depot. Each kit will contain a roll of plastic duct tape, 100 square feet of six millimeter plastic, a pair of scissors, a towel, an instructional video, an information booklet, and a Wally Wise coloring book. The kits will be mailed in mid-August.

The Shelter In Place kit will come in a cardboard box that will allow the resident to customize it to meet their needs. Suggested items to add to the kit are a battery-powered radio, battery-powered flashlight, first aid kit, entertainment and snacks, said a CSEPP news release.

The $21,350 Meals Ready to Eat (MRE) contract was awarded to SOPAKCO Packaging of Mullins, SC. The MREs should be delivered to each overpressurized school in Hermiston and the Umatilla School District by the start of school this fall.

Students will be sheltered in the overpressurized portion of their schools in the event of a chemical release at the Umatilla Chemical Depot. The meals are intended to provide nutrition to students if sheltering is required over a long period of time, continued the release.

Students in Stanfield and Echo will evacuate via bus to host schools out of the area.

The two contracts will be executed through the Umatilla County Chemical Stockpile Emergency Preparedness Program (CSEPP). Funding for the two contracts is provided by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).
