4-H leaders forum scheduled

If you're an Oregon 4-H leader here's an opportunity to spend some time exploring central Oregon with your family while taking part in an annual tradition. The annual 4-H Leaders' Forum takes place on April 6-7 in Redmond.

The forum is for all adult 4-H leaders and teen and junior leaders in grades 10-12. It's a time for leaders to get new ideas for 4-H activities, to meet other leaders from around the state, and to share 4-H experiences with others.

Participants have over 35 workshops to choose from, including sessions related to horse projects, animal science projects, clothing projects and horticulture projects. Other workshops will concentrate on specific 4-H activities, such as improving photography skills, basic flower arranging, developing 4-H resumes, camp crafts, developing youth leaders and how to get a "jump on germs."

This year's keynote speaker is Dr. Holly Jo Hodges, a former 4-H member and current Prineville physician. Dr. Hodges will talk about the importance of 4-H and how 4-H and 4-H leaders made a difference in her life.

Registration is $35 if postmarked to the State 4-H Office by March 26, $40 after that date. Registration includes the leaders' recognition luncheon, the conference, speakers, and the Friday evening program. Included in this year's Friday evening program will be a pit roast barbecue for the whole family sponsored by the Crook, Deschutes, and Jefferson County 4-H Leaders' associations. It will also feature hands-on arts and crafts workshops, fly tying, wood carving, musical entertainment, and much more.

Morrow County provides full or partial scholarships to attend. For more information on scholarships, housing, a complete list of workshops, the conference schedule, and registration forms, contact Bill Broderick at the Morrow County Extension office, (541) 676-9642 or bill.broderick@orst.edu.

Ione JV women lose to Wheeler

Ione junior varsity women narrowly lost to the Wheeler Falcons on Friday, Feb. 9, with a score of 19-16, at the end of two quarters.

Emily Key was the first and only team member to score in the first quarter. Key canned a three-point shot at the beginning of the game and followed up with an additional bucket for a total of five points. Key was also one of the leaders on the boards for Ione with five rebounds.

Meghan McCabe added four points and one two-point bucket followed by two foul shots in the second quarter. Jeanette Brantley added three points, one assist and two steals to the Cardinal attempt. Tracy Griffith scored two points and aided Key on the boards, grabbing down five rebounds. Megan E. McCabe helped out the Cardinals by scoring two points in the second quarter. Salli McElligott delivered one assist and apprehended two Falcon possessions.

Wheeler made 11 of 21 attempts at the foul line for a total of 52 percent. Ione made three of six attempts at the foul line for a total of 50 percent.

Time to gear up for St. Pat's parade

St. Patrick's Day is little over a month away, and the crews for Heppner's Annual St. Patrick's Day Celebration, "A Wee Bit o' Ireland," are gearing up to make this year's celebration every bit as festive and homespun as the previous 18.

One of the events that is a highlight every year is the parade on Saturday, March 17, at 1 p.m.

Craig Strobel, chairman of the Parade Committee, is putting out the call for entries for the parade. Past entrants are being invited to come join the fun again this year, and new entries are always eagerly encouraged, particularly if they feature an Irish theme.

Categories for participation include Irish float, Irish Character, Irish Bicycle, Irish Golf Cart, (you get the idea), Bands and Drill Teams, Antique Vehicles, and Irish Open Class (commonly called "Miscellaneous"). The only request is that equestrian entries be reserved for the Fair and Rodeo Parade in August.

Entry forms are available by phoning the Heppner Chamber of Commerce, 676-5536, or Strobel at 676-9224. In addition, forms will be available at Van Marter and Kahl Insurance in Heppner. E-mail requests for forms can be made at HeppnerParade01@aol.com. For further information about Heppner, check out the official website at www.heppner.net.

Ione Cardinal Boosters meet

The Cardinal Booster Club, at their Feb. 5 meeting at the Ione High School library, heard a report by Monica Swanson on the work done in the Ione gym. The Big Sky Conference sign is up and the championship boards are ready to go up. The flag will be moved higher on the wall.

Total receipts for Saturday's concessions and pizza feed were not yet available. Jean and John Jepsen donated the salad for both the Friday steak dinner and the pizza dinner.

If the boys or girls teams go to the district tournament the pep assembly will be Thursday, Feb. 15. The tournament is Feb. 16-17 at Umatilla.

Athletic Director Dean Robinson sent in names of booster club members, businesses and individuals who bought ads on the sport schedule poster and the community calendar to the district for the printed basketball programs.

It was announced that the Ione Middle School boys and girls won the Helix Basketball Tournament.

The next meeting of the Cardinal Booster Club will be Monday, March 5, at the Ione High School library at 7 p.m.

Ione JV crush Echo

The Ione junior varsity Lady Cardinals crushed Echo, 63-19, on Saturday, February 10.

Natalie McElligott was one of the leading point producers in just one quarter of play with a total of 13 points. Emily Key also added 13 points and headed the Cardinal larceny with five steals. Salli McElligott scored 12 points and also led the team with five steals. Caitlin Orem scored seven points and captured eight rebounds.

Tracy Griffith added seven points and led the team on the boards with 10 rebounds. Jeanette Brantley scored five points and seized eight rebounds. Meghan McCabe scored four points and delivered three assists. Megan E. McCabe scored two points in the second quarter for her team. Eva Chitty delivered two assists to her teammates.
