

Lisa Nix Lowary back by demand

"Local sensation", Lisa Nix Lowary, will perform at the Morrow County Fair on Friday from 1-2 p.m.

This "talented woman", who resides in Pendleton, is the daughter of Walt and Charlene Nix, formerly from Heppner, now living in Hermiston.

Nix, having spent her childhood growing up in Heppner and singing to old 45 records on her phonograph, has "grown into one of the hottest sensations in local country music performance".

Native American legends, songs presented at fair

Tom McCormack, an acclaimed performing-artist, will present the "beauty-way of Native-American legends", interspersed with cedar-flute music, drum, clapper-stock and rattle, at the Morrow County Fair on Thursday from noon to 1 p.m. "Through the "blessing way" of the sacred circle this "storyholder" weaves indigenous mythology," said a release.

"There are so many special memories and friends that I haven't seen," says Lisa. "I am excited to go back and perform for all of them...and to say hello again."

Nix has performed on numerous occasions, including local talent shows, rodeos and 4th of July celebrations. She will also perform in the Morrow County Fair float at Hermiston and Pendleton parades.

"Let's have a great time at the fair, listening to the beautiful Lisa Nix Lowary," said a fair spokesperson.

Since 1988 McCormack has presented legends across North America and internationally at schools, libraries, festivals, powwows, museums and other diverse venues. He performs the Oregon and California Trail through the eyes of native and pioneer children.

This refreshing rendering has distinct dialoguing characters throughout the performance.

Fair committee puts in hours of planning

This year the Morrow County Fair Committee has been busy planning the Kick-Off Dance and entertainment for the fair. They have spent numerous hours in planning, advertising and getting everything scheduled.

If you have any ideas about what you would like to see at next year's fair they invite you to you join the group and help out. They would appreciate having your help.

The members of the Fair

Committee are Ellen Kennedy, Renee Yocom, Stacey Wainwright and C.J. Johnson.
