Chamber Chatter

By Claudia Hughes, Executive Manager

As we continue to be so very aware of the events of Sept. 11, let us remember that fear cannot sustain a family, nor a community, nor a country, nor the world. We have been given a chance to change the ways in which we carry on our day-to-day activities, a chance to learn about other countries and look through their eyes at us, a chance to show appreciation for our many volunteer rescuers, a chance to realize in the long run it's not about being the best, being on top, winning the argument, getting even, holding grudges, making the most money ... it's about caring about each and everyone, understanding, being able to think for ourselves, freedom, making a difference, being selective in our choices of the information and entertainment the media feeds to us day in and day out and not being afraid to share what we hear and feel in our hearts. In the past, has emphasis been put on the wrong things, causing people to feel insecure, inadequate, in need of drugs, aggressive, angry? Relish the positive news stories we are hearing, something new.

None of us got to choose where "we landed" when we were born. It's a wake up call to figure out what causes so much violence in the world and question what we can do to change that. Look deep within. Think. Talk. Share. We carry on, hopefully each of us being more attentive to others everywhere.

October is here already. Next Tuesday at John's Other Place, CenturyTel will be demonstrating their new DSL presence in our area. On Tuesday, Oct. 16, there will be a tour to the Hermiston Chamber to hear speakers from Klamath Falls on water issues. Lunch will be $10 and a bus will be provided. Call the Heppner Chamber by Wednesday, Oct. 10 for reservations, 676-5535. There is a possibility of a side tour in conjunction with the luncheon if we can schedule with Columbia River Processing. Stay tuned. Life goes on.

Thought for the week: "Is getting back to normal, the normal we really want?"
