

Ag board to meet in Tigard

The role of Oregon's 29 commodity commissions highlights the agenda as the State Board of Agriculture holds its quarterly meeting in Tigard on Dec. 5-6.

On day one of the two-day meeting, the 10-member board will be updated on commodity commission rules and accomplishments. Representatives of various commissions are expected to take part in the discussion.

On day two, the agenda includes an update on the statewide pesticide use reporting system and the implementation of new rules for animal feeding operations (CAFOs and AFOS). The board will also be asked to recommend approval of a water quality plan and rules for the Molalla-Pudding-French Prairie-North Santiam Agricultural Water Quality Management Area, which impacts landowners and agriculturalists in Marion and southwest Clackamas counties.

The board meeting begins at 1:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 5, at the Embassy Suites, 19000 S.W. Washington Square Rd., in Tigard, and will resume at 8:30 a.m. on Thursday, Dec. 6. The meeting is open to the public.

Who's Who, published by Educational Communications, Inc., Lake Forest, Illinois, is the largest recognition program and publication in the nation honoring high achieving high school students, according to a news release. Students are nominated by high school principals and guidance counselors, national youth groups, churches and educational organizations based upon students' academic achievement and involvement in extracurricular activities. Traditionally, 99 percent of Who's Who students have a grade point average of 'B' or better and 97 percent are college bound.

The 35th Annual Edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students, 2000-2001, published in 18 regional volumes, features over 750,000 students or just five percent of the nation's 15,000,000 high school students. They represent approximately 20,000 of the 24,000 public, private and parochial high schools in the country.

Who's Who students also compete for $200,000 in scholarship awards and participate in the publication's Annual Survey of High Achievers, an annual opinion poll of teen attitudes. The book is distributed on a complimentary basis to up to 15,000 high schools, colleges, universities and public libraries throughout the country.

Lone youth to advance to Eagle Scout

Jeff Hunt

Sixteen-year-old Jeff Hunt will advance in rank to Eagle Scout during an Eagle Scout Court of Honor ceremony on Sunday, Dec. 2, at 3 p.m. at the Lone United Church of Christ.

Jeff is a member of Troop # 679 in Hermiston, which is sponsored by Our Lady Of Angels Catholic Church, and led by Scoutmaster Larry Ross.

All are welcome to attend. Jeff began in the scouting program as a Cub Scout in the second grade at Highland Hills Elementary School in Hermiston. He progressed through the years to the top rank in Cub Scouts to become a Webelo (a word taken from the phrase, "We'll Be Loyal Scouts"). While a Webelo, Jeff earned the Arrow of Light Award. It is Cub Scouts' highest award and is the only Cub Scout badge that can be worn on the Boy Scout uniform.

Jeff bridged from Cub Scouts to Boy Scouts in the spring of 1997. Also, at this time, Jeff and his family moved from Hermiston to Ione where Jeff's dad Gary, teaches middle school science, his mom Becky, is a substitute teacher, and his sister Miranda, is a seventh grader at Lone Middle School.
