Lexington FD

Auxiliary to meet

The Lexington Fire Dept. Auxiliary announces that the winner of the hand-made plunder box, donated by Jake Haynes, is Frances Freel of Heppner.

The regular monthly meeting of the auxiliary will be held Thursday, Jan. 17, at 7 p.m. at the Lexington City Hall.

Review of the scrapbook, future projects, election of officers and fire department needs will be items on the agenda.

Past projects of the auxiliary include food sales, raffles, parade entries, a county fair booth, a town-wide yard sale, lighting contest, fire prevention information, needed equipment for the fire department and promoting goodwill for the community.

Activities for the auxiliary will depend on membership. Ideas for future projects would be appreciated, said an auxiliary member.

Ione Site Council reviews bond recommendations

By Debbie Radie

The Ione Site Council met Jan. 9. Discussion included the bond project update recommendations from the Ione-Lexington Advisory Committee, which were to be re-submitted to the school board on Monday, Jan. 14.

Members reviewed the recommendations and blue prints for the project. The architect will be at Ione all day on Jan. 24 to discuss details of the building's interior with staff members and community. The advisory committee will meet that evening to discuss further design ideas and other pertinent information.

Relocation of the tennis courts is part of the plan as well as a larger playground area for the grade school.

The Site Council noted the following dates: January 17 is the end of the first semester; January 21 is Martin Luther King Day with school in session on that Friday, January 25.

School Master Web Access, which provides web access to parents is scheduled to be up and functional on January 18. Parents will be required to come personally to the office to sign for PIN and ID numbers so that they may be able to log in and view their student's progress reports.

Teacher Darlene Marquardt discovered some Intel information about projects that some other schools have done and will research any grant opportunities that might be available.

Principal Mike Stuart reported that Ione Schools are on target and up-to-date with the school-wide planning, so far. Goals include testing for placement of new students and testing for younger children. It is now possible to access the "Dibbles" testing for students in kindergarten through second grade and the "MAPS" test for older students will be available later in the spring. A goal was established that 90 percent of students will meet the benchmarks at the third and fifth-grade levels for math and reading. Discipline for K-12 was discussed, along with several ideas for incentives for good behavior. A goal was also established as to keyboarding competencies. Elementary students are currently learning keyboarding beginning in the second grade.

Student/school recognition and honors include:

-Presentation of the state excellence award and flag by alumnus Tass Morrison of the Department of Education. Information about the school's academic standings should be available in around a month.

-Brad Burright made second team all-state for football.

-Shelby Krebs was one of 25 Oregon Youth to attend the 79th National 4-H Congress in Atlanta, GA. She joined 1200 teens from across the nation.

-Shannon Clay won the National Geographic Bee for Ione. The contest was for grades four-eight. She and her sister, Kara, were the two finalists, with Shannon breaking the tie to be the finalist.

-Jeff Hunt was nominated to attend the Hoby Conference to represent Ione, with Emily Key the runner-up.

Evangelist to speak at CLC

Evangelist Pieter Bos will be at the Christian Life Center, 535 W. Morgan St., Jan. 20-23. He will speak during the morning service on Sunday, Jan. 20, at 10:30 a.m. and again in the evening at 6 p.m. with a special youth emphasis. He will also speak from Monday through Wednesday, Jan. 21-23, at 7 p.m.

Bos was born in the Netherlands and was raised in a Dutch Reformed home. His desire to become involved in ministry and missions started when he was about 10 years old, while he was attending a Sunday School class where missionaries were talking about their experiences on the field.

"Having been raised under extremely difficult circumstances, and after a period of teen-age rebellion, he forgot about his vision, but God didn't. When God regained his attention, he re-committed his life to the -All 11 of the HIS juniors who took the PSAT qualified as National Merit Scholars. One of the sophomores who took the test also scored above the 80th percentile, which is significant for a sophomore.

-According to 2001 OSAA Cup fall academic standings IA Ione is in first place with 540 points.

Lord, and was baptized with the Holy Spirit," according to a press release. Before long Bos was involved in a Pentecostal church and in inner-city ministry.

A few years later he married an American girl who worked with Youth With a Mission in Amsterdam, Holland. They now have two children.

Upon arrival in the U.S., he taught evangelism and discipleship; worked as a counselor/teacher and training center director in the ministry of Teen Challenge in Pennsylvania and Washington; and served as pastor and as an evangelist with a "heart for missions". He is an ordained minister in the Assemblies of God.

Everyone is invited to attend the services.
