Thank You, Thank You to all my family and friends for the beautiful cards, gifts and flowers. I certainly felt like a "Queen for a Day" on my 80th birthday.

Special thanks to my son Gary and wife Martha; grandchildren Dean and Angela; sister Blanche Simms; niece Rosetta Nangerin and husband Rongie; Gayle Hoelt for the beautiful cake; and special friend Alvira Blanchard.
I love you all for making it such a special day.

It is my pleasure to extend thanks to the people who participated in the Willow Creek Dam and Lake Interpretive Sign dedication on June 14, 2004, the 101st anniversary of the 1903 Heppner Flood.

The people who took part in the ceremony included Heppner Legion Post No. 87, Ed Baker, Commander, which presented the colors; Pastor Keith Brudevold, who gave the invocation; past Mayor, Cliff Green, who described the early history of the dam; present

Mayor, Bob Jepsen, who presented the current benefits of the dam and reservoir; City Manager, Jerry Breazeale, who explained the dam's benefits in regard to floodway and flood plain remapping; U.S.F.S. District Ranger, Andrei Rykoff, who discussed relationship of the interpretive sign to the Blue Mountain Scenic Byway; and Skip Mathews who commented on the facilities that are managed by the South Morrow Park District at the lake and the benefits to agriculture provided by the impounded water. Also, thanks is extended to Dan Dunnett and John Carlson of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for their efforts in facilitating the completion and installation of the interpretive sign. Finally, I want to express appreciation to the Heppner Chamber of Commerce and Claudia Hughes and my many friends for helping me keep my energy focused on completing the sign project.

Most of all, I want to commend the citizens of Heppner who continue their dedication to keeping alive the memory of the 250 residents of Heppner who perished in the flood 101 years ago.
