Obituaries

Edna Marie McClintock

Edna Marie McClintock, 82, a lifelong Pendleton resident, died Saturday, Sept. 25, 2004.

A private graveside service was held on Monday, Sept. 27 at Olney Cemetery.

McClintock was born June 17, 1922, at Pendleton to William and Stella McClintock. She was the granddaughter of William Henry and Mary Ann Fix Cargill.

She served as the family record and date keeper even though she was blind. She enjoyed her music, which she played by ear, and visiting her friends and having them visit her. She spent many years collecting bracelets, records and cups given by friends. She also collected bird tapes and records and even called herself and others "birdie" at times. Family and home were very special to her and her family's visits home were always too short for her.

Survivors include several cousins, including Beverly McCloud of Pendleton who was her caregiver, Elaine Urban of Pendleton, Mary Ella Johnson of Heppner, Dick Johnson of Hermiston, David Tachella of Pendleton and Millie Simmons Burden on Pilot Rock; as well as many others not in the immediate area.

Burns Mortuary of Pendleton was in charge of arrangements.

Margaret E. Ball

Margaret E. Ball, 69, of Lexington, died Saturday, Sept. 25, 2004 at her home. A memorial gathering for the family and friends was held Tuesday, Oct. 5 at Lexington Baptist Church.

She was born June 1, 1935, at Toppenish, WA to Harold and Lorraine Embrey Shoemaker.

On Oct. 5, 1951, she married Jack Ball at the Lewiston Christian Church in Lewiston, ID. The couple began their married life at Kinzua, where they raised their three children before moving to Lexington.

Ball enjoyed attending church, playing bingo and cards, working puzzles and painting.

Survivors include her mother, Lorraine Woodward of Hermiston; sons, Michael R. Ball of Prineville and Dennis G. Ball of Antelope and Steven K. Ball of Ione; two stepsons, a stepbrother, and numerous grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her husband, Jack, her father, two brothers and a sister.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Lexington Fire Department or the American Cancer Society.

Sweeney Mortuary of Heppner is in charge of arrangements.

Births

Dominick Xander Calvert- a son, Dominick Xander, was born Sept. 17, 2004 at Good Shepherd Medical Center in Hermiston to Katherine Lea and Benjamin Quintin Calvert of Irrigon.

Alyssa Riley Jennings- a daughter, Alyssa Riley, was born Sept. 20, 2004 at Good Shepherd Medical Center in Hermiston to Jennifer Lynn and Mathew Allen Jennings of Boardman.

Irene H. Shelton

Irene H. Shelton, 87, a resident of Forest Grove, died Sunday, Sept. 26, 2004 at the Marquis Care Center in Forest Grove.

Funeral services were held at The Grove Adult Residential Home.

Shelton was born on Dec. 20, 2004 in Cleveland, OH. She was the oldest of three children born to Lewis and Amelia (Seres) Foder. She was raised on a farm and received her education in Ohio.

She was united in marriage to Samuel D. Wager in 1939 in Las Vegas, NV. Following their marriage they lived in Lake Arrowhead, CA and later in San Bernardino, CA. Samuel died in 1949. Sam and Irene celebrated ten years of marriage together. Irene continued to live in Southern California until 1964 when she moved to Forest Grove.

Shelton was a homemaker. She had worked as a retail clerk as well as a clerk for the Employment Department for the State of Oregon. She also owned a craft shop in Forest Grove.

Among her special interest she enjoyed bowling, having bowled at Timberlanes over several years. She enjoyed arts and crafts, knitting and sewing. She loved to read and listen to talking books. She was fond of playing cards, dancing, traveling and visiting with friends.

Survivors include her two children and their spouses, Sharon "Sherree" and Robert Mahoney of Heppner and Samuel B. and Velma Wager of Delta Junction, AK; seven grandchildren; ten great-grandchildren; and her very dear friends, Mary Lou and Robert Castor of Forest Grove and Shannon and Harlan Smith. She was preceded in death by her parents and her siblings.

The family suggests that contributions be in Shelton's name to: Library Outreach Service-Washington County Cooperative Library Service, 111 NE Lincoln Street, M.S. 58A, Hillsboro, OR 97124-3036 or to: Talking Book and Braille Service of Oregon State Library, 250 Winter Street, NE Salem, OR 97301-3950.

Chamber Chatter

By Claudia Hughes, Exec. Dir.

Have you had your fall tune-up? Take a ride or a walk and see the variegated fall colors changing every day. Remember to take a deep breath and listen to the sounds of the Sandhill cranes migrating south. Think about nothing as you walk along or think about anything and everything. Just as your thoughts of autumn may be a mixture so is this weekly column.

Ballots are going out soon. The Chamber has tried to assist in creating informed voters during the candidates' forums and encourages one and all to register. Voting is about freedom and I share this e-mail that came recently, written by an unknown source: "I once told a man that I no longer voted. He responded by telling me this: The choice of whether I voted or not was why he waded through rice paddies, toted guns and fought battles. It wasn't long afterward that I began to vote again."

Thursday's Chamber program continues with information for the voting public. Joe Schweinhart of Associated Oregon Industries, who is the Chamber representative, will be discussing ballot measures affecting small businesses and the Oregon political agenda for 2005. Again, interested persons are invited to attend at noon at John's Place.

And, because life cannot be taken too seriously, mix in some fun. Mark your calendars for this Saturday, Oct. 9, for the first ever Heppner Oktoberfest. In addition to the many contests planned, there will be a live scarecrow style show. This will occur about 4:30 p.m. in the action area on Main Street, with all ages invited to participate. All you have to do is put on some scarecrow duds and show up. There will be a couple of scarecrows on hand to show you what to do. So get busy, bake a cake, stuff a scarecrow, find an ugly dog or man, practice your pumpkin spitting skills and come have a great time. Most of you spend much of your time volunteering. This is your opportunity to enjoy the fall moment.

Are you a photographer? The Chamber is looking for family activity shots in Morrow County on the golf course, at a lake, cycling, four-wheeling, camping, eating s'mores or just having fun, to use in our Eastern Oregon Visitor Guide. They must be excellent quality and at least 4 inches by 6 inches. If they are used in the guide there will be monetary recognition. Heppner could also use them in websites and other advertising with the photographer's permission. Hope to see your photos. Help us market this town we love, to retain its quality by bringing in visitors and new residents.

Thought for the week: "The things in life that count the most are the things that cannot be counted."
