Cardinal Booster Club helps with sixth grade fundraiser

Cardinal Booster Club met Monday, Nov. 1 at the Ione School library. President Lynn Dee Ramos reported the Cardinal banners would arrive next week. The club ordered 50 banners for the sixth grade to sell as a fundraiser. They will be sold for $45 each.

Dale Holland's math class calculated it would take 16 cans of paint to paint the cafeteria. Club members would like volunteers to do the painting before basketball season or during Christmas break. Ramos will look into getting the paint for that project.

A group of volunteers is collecting cans for recycling. The money is mainly for second helpings for students receiving free lunches. It will also be used to supplement the library fund and other school projects. The collected money goes through Booster Club and is dispersed to the school for those projects. Anyone wishing to donate cans should contact Betty Gray.

The community calendar has been ordered and should arrive at the end of the year. There are 830 listings and 41 ads on the calendars, which will sell for $8 each. The sport schedule poster has also been ordered and will be available for free during basketball season.

The volleyball team traveled to the district tournament in Umatilla on Nov. 6 and the football team will travel to Pine Eagle on Nov. 13 for post-season play. The club voted to give the coaches $10 per player/coach/manager to help with meal expenses. A charter bus will also be provided for the boys traveling to Pine Eagle.

The money left to the Booster Club by the Class of 2004 will be used to pay for painting of the gym floor as they requested. A plaque will be made to recognize their donation.

The club voted to pay off the 2003-04 yearbook balance of almost $1000.

The Basketball Bonanza will be Dec. 3 and 4, with both junior varsity and varsity teams participating. Anyone who can help with concessions should contact Arlynda Gates.

The next meeting of the Cardinal Booster Club will be Monday, Dec. 6 at 7 p.m. at the school library.

Obituaries

Glenn W. Brandon

Glenn W. Brandon, 88, of Lexington, died Wednesday, Nov. 3, at Good Shepherd Medical Center in Hermiston.

By his request a private burial service was held at the Lexington Cemetery on Nov. 6.

Brandon was born July 1, 1916, at Carlile, WY, to Charles and Minnie Holstein Brandon. He grew up and attended schools at Carlile and at Bridgeport, NE, before moving with his family to Oregon City.

Brandon then traveled a great deal, working on farms, and then driving truck. His first truck was a 1937 Studebaker, which he eventually wrecked. He did heavy haul trucking for Consolidated Freight, United Buckingham and retired from East Texas Motor Freight.

On Oct. 25, 1944, he married Jennie Wilson at Vancouver, WA. The two were parents of daughters, Linda and Evelyn. They later divorced.

It was said he was big-hearted and helped others whenever he could and always spoke well of others.

Survivors include close friends Jim and Yung Nelson of Lexington.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Truck Historical Society, P.O. Box 901611, Kansas City, MO 64190-1611.

Sweeney Mortuary of Heppner is in charge of arrangements.

Charlotte Rose DeBrie

Charlotte Rose DeBrie, 60, of Hermiston, died Tuesday, Nov. 2, 2004, at the Country Living Adult Care Home in Echo.

A memorial service was held Nov. 6 at Burns Mortuary in Hermiston. Disposition was by cremation with inurnment to take place later in North Dakota.

She was born Sept. 1, 1944, at Richardton, N.D., to Henry and Helen Rable Raaf and was raised on a farm near Richardton.

She lived at Denver and in California for a time, before moving to Oregon.

She had been employed in restaurants, motels, at U and I/Lamb Weston in potato processing and at Hermiston Foods.

She enjoyed cooking, canning foods, baking cakes and pies, Elvis Presley, camping and the mountains, but most of all she loved her family.

Survivors include her husband, Thomas E. DeBrie of Umatilla; sons, Doug Raaf and Rollin Bradfield, both of Irrigon; daughter, Michelle Escalante of Irrigon; brothers, Roger Raaf of Fargo, N.D. and John Raaf of Ellendale, N.D. and 13 grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her parents, Henry and Helen Raaf, by twin sister, Charlene Raaf, by infant brother, Rollin Raaf and brother, Olean Raaf.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Diabetes Association, P.O. Box 2680, Canton, OH 44720.

Burns Mortuary of Hermiston is in charge of arrangements.

Dallas William Wilson

Dallas William Wilson, 90, of Portland, died Saturday, Nov. 6, 2004, at his home of heart failure.

A funeral service will be held at 1 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 13 at Gresham Funeral Chapel, 257 SE Roberts Ave., Gresham. Graveside services will be at 1 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 14 at Riverview Cemetery in Boardman.

Wilson was born Jan. 11, 1914 in Cecil. He was one of nine children of Robert Samuel and Minnie Montague Wilson of Boardman. He was a graduate of Boardman High School and served in the U.S. Army Air Corps in World War II. He married Etoile S. Simmons (Simmie) in 1942 and settled in Portland.

He joined Poulson Wilson in 1964 and served as president until his death. Many people knew him as an innovator with a generous nature.

Wilson was active at Riverside Golf and Country Club. He founded and operated Wilson's Willow Run Golf Course on the family farm of his boyhood in Boardman.

Survivors include his wife; three sisters, Phyllis Baker and Brick Duffy, both of The Dalles and Audrey Smith of Portland; and many nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by two brothers, R.E. (Pat) Wilson and Ted Wilson and three sisters, Imogen Johnston, Elsie McClaskey and Gladys Morrison.

St. Patrick's Parish to hold annual mini carnival

St. Patrick's Parish will be having its annual Mini Carnival this Sunday, Nov. 14 from 12-2 p.m., in the parish hall.

The carnival will have prizes and games for all including a cake walk, fishing pond, darts, golf, basketball, name that saint and Bingo. Hot dog and sausage meals will be served and there will be a raffle for a holiday basket donated by Murray's.

Everyone is welcome.

Time to enter 2004 Make It Yourself with Wool contest

Entry forms for Oregon's 57th Annual Make It Yourself with Wool contest are available from program director Maureen Krebs, local County Extension offices, or the Oregon Sheep Growers Association in Salem, (503) 364-5462. Entries must be submitted to the director by Friday, Nov. 26, 2004.

To enter, contestants must construct garments of 100 percent wool or wool blends (minimum of 60 percent wool or specialty wool fibers). All entry garments must have been completed after Jan. 1, 2004.

This year's contest will be held at the Hood River Inn in Hood River on Saturday, Dec. 11, 2004. On Dec. 11, contestants must model their garments and then judges review each garment's construction, before the winners are announced during a fashion show held that evening.

The contest is open to all ages: Preteen (12 and under), Junior (13-16), Senior (17-24), Adults (25 and over), plus an additional "Made for Others" category (any age). Details are available from Krebs at (541) 422-7548.

Winners in the Junior and Senior divisions receive an expense paid trip to compete in the National Make It Yourself with Wool Finals. This year's finals will be held at John Ascuaga's Nugget in Reno, NV, Jan. 27-29, 2005.

The objective of the contest is to demonstrate the beauty and versatility of wool fabrics and yarns, but also to encourage personal creativity and develop life skills, including responsibility, sportsmanship, and appreciation of diversity.

Major sponsors for the Oregon contest are the Oregon Sheep Growers Association and the Oregon Sheep Commission.

Annual Christmas tree auction returning to Heppner

"Oh no, not again," was the comment someone made when they saw the flyer for Heppner's Third Annual Christmas Tree Auction which is being held at Heppner's new City Hall on Main Street at 6:30 p.m., Dec. 2, 2004 right after the annual Light Parade.

But it's not just an auction this year, Hospice and Heppner Chamber of Commerce have joined together and one of the beautifully decorated trees is also going to be raffled off. So, if you feel the same way (bah humbug), maybe you can win one of the gorgeous trees donated by the generous citizens, businesses and organizations of our fair community. Raffle tickets are $1 each, six for $5, or the best deal yet, 30 tickets for $20. Tickets can be purchased at Chamber of Commerce, Murray's Drugs or John's Place and you need not be present to win. But we do hope you will join us for an evening of enjoyment, including the raffle.

Santa Claus will be arriving at City Hall by 5 p.m. to have his picture taken with good little children of all ages and light refreshments will be served while Christmas carols add to the festive atmosphere.

Please come early to watch the annual lighting of the town Christmas tree next to the Post Office at 4:30 p.m., then join us to welcome Santa, have a little nosh and then enjoy (or jump in and join) the bidding wars for the enchanting trees that will be on display and vote for your favorite.

Winner of the "People's Choice" award will receive a handsome plaque along with bragging rights for a year. Trees will be shown on Channel 3 before the auction. If you see one you can't live without, but can't attend that evening, bids will be taken by telephone again this year.

Also, because of the participation of Hospice this year, donations may be tax-deductible, which helps make the event even more enjoyable. For more information about bidding by phone, the tax deduction, to enter a tree or to buy raffle tickets, please contact the Chamber at 676-5536 or Auction chair, Nancy Gochnauer at 676-5481.
