Real Estate

INEXPENSIVE ENHANCEMENT

All homes for sale have competition. So how do you make your home stand out from the rest? Here's an inexpensive tip that brings amazing results: buy plants!

Plants are an inexpensive way to enhance the all-important first impression. Plants will fill in bare spots and add a warm, homey feeling in any room. In addition, plants on top of a bookshelf or stand will add a nice decorator touch to a room for just a few dollars. Plants can help sell your home, and they can brighten any of the rooms in your new home when you move. Also, they are portable and can travel with you. You can wallpaper, re-carpet, or paint and plaster - and maybe you should. However, you can't take those improvements with you like you can your plants.

There are many little touches that can give your home an extra edge on the competition. Give me a call and let's talk about the current housing market and what you can expect.
