Morrow County Sheriff's Office involved in pursuit

On January 10 at approximately 12:30 a.m., a Morrow County Deputy attempted to stop a black SUV. The operator refused to yield and sped through a plowed field that could not be traversed by the patrol vehicle. A short time later, the Morrow County Communications Center received a 911 from a resident on Sunset Lane reporting that a vehicle had just driven into their yard from a field.

The resident reported that the vehicle had attempted to ram through a fence and had gotten lodged there. A male had exited the driver's side and ran away. A female passenger identified as Kimberly Kay Scherwinka, 31 years of age out of Enterprise had remained at the scene.

A search of the area was carried out with assistance from Boardman Police Department, Oregon State Police, and Umatilla Police Department. The operator was not located at the time.

At approximately 8:30, a local resident reported that her husband had been in contact with a male that was muddy, shoeless and had minor injuries. The woman said that her husband had given the man a ride to Hermiston. The operator, later identified as David Drinkard, 26 years of age listing no local address, was taken into custody at 730 SW Standard in Hermiston.

Both David Drinkard and Kimberly Scherwinka were subsequently lodged at Umatilla County Jail on multiple charges, including possession of a controlled substance, and attempt to elude a police officer. Drinkard also had outstanding warrants for his arrest.

The Umatilla Police Department, Boardman Police Department and the Oregon State Police assisted.

MCSO received a report from a caller in Heppner that it looked like someone had been doing "cookies" on the Willow Creek Lake boat launch area.

MCSO deputy in Heppner advised there was a female subject in a track suit and blanket walking on Chase/May streets. All was okay, she was walking to her boyfriend's house.

MCSO received a report from a caller in Boardman that a male subject was trying to repossess her vehicle and was getting rude. The caller requested a deputy contact.

Heppner Donation Directory Project progresses

The Heppner Community Donation Directory Project is moving forward under the direction of project manager John Edmundson. This project includes identifying all community entities that make charitable donations for worthy purposes and compiling the information for these entities as to their leadership, contact information, procedures for making requests and the types of purposes they support.

This information will be available for any individual or organization seeking donations to support their particular project.

The majority of the information for service clubs, church organizations, public/private organizations, public organizations, education organizations, scholarship funds, health organizations, fraternal organizations, and other organizations has been received.

The information for about half of the community businesses has been received. Contact with the rest of the businesses is ongoing.

Any business that does not wish to be in the directory will not be listed.

The directory will be in an electronic file located only at the Heppner Branch of the Oregon Trail Library District.

When the compiling of the directory is completed, a committee of community leaders will review the data and make a decision as to whether a general purpose Heppner Community Foundation is needed to assist in funding small community-oriented development projects that are not covered by existing organizations and entities.

For more information about the Heppner Community Donation Directory can contact John Edmundson at 676-5177.
