Nearly 1500 clay targets were thrown during the Columbia Plateau Pheasants Forever Youth Clay Shoot last Saturday at Rolling Hills Hunting Preserve. 28 youngsters, ages six through 17, and parents enjoyed a day of shooting and a barbeque. The program was sponsored by PF Step Outside Program which advocates that "No Child Shall be Left Indoors," and the Heppner Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife who donated shotgun shells and clay targets.

"The club has a new clay thrower on a trailer," said Skip Matthews PF Chapter President. "We wanted to have a youth event to get some kids out to experience something that maybe they had never done before and to try out the new trap thrower." The "trap wagon" was built by Mike Bennett with a lot of much appreciated help from Kevin Chick of Miller Manufacturing. Prizes were awarded for 1st through 3rd place in four age categories. The winners in the 10 and under were 1st Place: Skyler Hawks, 2nd Place: Tommy Bredfield and 3rd Place: Riley Gorham. 11-12 year old winners were 1st Place: Keenan Helfrecht, 2nd Place: Aidan Wright and 3rd Place: Andrew Hatfield. 13-14 year old winners were 1st Place: Brett Harrison, 2nd Place: Donald Matthews and 3rd Place Trent Cannon. Winning the 15 and older category was 1st Place: Sam King, 2nd Place: Bo Foster and 3rd Place Dillon Lutecher. A raffle for a shotgun was held and the winner was Zach Bredfield.

Help students succeed

August is National Back-To-School Month and parents everywhere are busy helping their children prepare for school. Unfortunately, many families are unable to afford the basic supplies every child needs to start the school year off on the right foot.

A tradition of donating new school supplies was started by Klamath First Bank and Heppner Nazarene Church. The last few years Mary Ann Elguezabal has carried out that tradition.

The following is a list of items that all children need to succeed: No. 2 pencils, colored pencils, crayons, erasers, compasses, notebook paper, folders with pockets, rulers, scissors, protractors, glue sticks, white glue, 3-ring binders, basic calculators, and backpacks.

Donations may be dropped off at Heppner Elementary School or call Mary Ann at 676-5774 and she can pick up the items. A financial contribution is also appreciated.

The Boardman City Council continued hearings Tuesday night, from June 19th, to consider adoption of the proposed Interchange Area Management Plan (IAMP) and a Transportation System Plan (TSP) Update. The City's transportation consultant, Carl Springer of DKS Associates, prepared the final draft proposals of the IAMP and the TSP. The goal of the plans are to develop an IAMP for the interchanges of I-84 at Main Street and Laurel Lane to establish corrective measures which would ensure safe and efficient traffic movement of the interchange areas over a 20-year period. With an IAMP in place the City will also establish eligibility for state funding of future street projects. Several property owners, businesses, and other interested parties attended Tuesday's meeting to testify as to the effect the plans may have on the community. Many had concerns of businesses being threatened by cutting off access to Front Street. Alternative suggestions included widening the overpass at exit 164 and the off ramps and/or lengthening the off ramps.

Although Councilors did not adopt these draft plans as presented, they felt they were a good start on creating the final plans. Both hearings were continued indefinitely until the City, along with officials from the Oregon Department of Transportation, the Department of Land Conservation Development, and the public have held a workshop to "tweak" the current draft plans. A workshop date will be set during the August 21st Council meeting.

In other City news, the Council adopted an Ordinance rezoning 76 acres from Future Urban to Residential, where a developer plans a residential subdivision. An Ordinance was adopted concerning parking semi-tractor trailer in residential zones. The Council also adopted language changes to the Municipal Code pertaining to sidewalks and motor trucks. The next regularly scheduled meeting of the Boardman City Council is Tuesday, August 21, 2007 at 7 p.m. at Boardman City Hall.
