Middle East and Smithsonian Programs offered for MC residents

A special travelogue program about the Middle East will be held in Heppner on Wednesday, September 3, and a program from the Smithsonian American Art Museum will be held in Boardman on Thursday, September 4. Both programs are hosted by the Oregon Trail Library District and brought to Morrow County by Libraries of Eastern Oregon (LEO).

At 7 p.m. on September 3 at the Heppner Public Library, Curt Bell and Linda McKim-Bell will present "A Sense of Place: A Journey Home to the Middle East," which will include slides and discussion about their recent trip to Middle Eastern countries. Bell was born in Bahrain and lived there for many years. He attended college in Lebanon and is a retired neuroscientist who now works with McKim-Bell in international human rights organizations.

"Now more than ever it's important to see the human side of these Middle Eastern nations," Bell said. "Peace efforts begin with an understanding of other cultures."

The program is free and open to persons of all ages. Middle East refreshments will be served.

On Thursday, September 4, at 11 a.m. at the Boardman Public Library, a live videoconference will be presented by the Smithsonian American Art Museum (SAAM). Area residents are encouraged to attend and to talk directly with staff from the Washington, D.C. museum.

Museum staff will present "America's Art," which includes highlights from the national collection of art with particular emphasis on our relationship to the land.

"From sea to shining sea, from wilderness to urban centers, those attending the program can discover the social, political and technological innovations that have profoundly affected American life and art," said Woody Dowling, SAAM distance learning manager.

The programs are part of LEO's "A Sense of Place" series of programs in the arts, sciences and humanities, funded by the national Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS). IMLS is the primary source of federal support for the nation's 122,000 libraries and 17,500 museums. The Institute's mission is to create strong libraries and museums that connect people to information and ideas. The Institute works at the national level and in coordination with state and local organizations to sustain heritage, culture, and knowledge; enhance learning and innovation; and support professional development. To learn more about the Institute, please visit www.imls.gov.

For further information about the programs, please contact Marsha Richmond, Oregon Trail Library Director at 541-481-3365 or Lyn Craig, LEO exec. director at 541-763-2355.

Oregon Wheat Commission to hold board meeting

The Oregon Wheat Commission (OWC) will hold a board meeting on Wednesday, September 3, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Port of Morrow, Well Springs Room, in Boardman.

Lunch will be included for all attendees.

The commission meeting is open to the public and anyone wishing to participate is encouraged and welcome to do so. Dress is business casual.

Morrow County Chronicles on sale

The 2008 Morrow County Chronicles went on sale at the Morrow County Fair. This newly published issue of the Chronicles is now available at all branches of the Bank of Eastern Oregon, at the Morrow County Museum, and at the Boardman Pharmacy.

Issues of previous Chronicles continue to be available at the Museum. All but the first two years of the series remain in print. The cost of each volume is $5.

The Morrow County Historical Society publications feature original and reprinted articles pertinent to Morrow County's history. Anyone interested in helping to produce a Chronicles for next year is encouraged to call Louis Carlson in Heppner or Carol Michael in Boardman.
