Beth's Buddies, led by team captain Beth Morter, arrived in Portland on Sunday, September 28, to participate in the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation (JDRF) Walk to Cure Diabetes.

Thirty-nine team members enjoyed the 3.1 mile walk on a beautiful fall day, a direct contrast to last year where the rain did fall. After the walk, team members lined up for the picnic lunch before heading off to partake of unlimited rides at Oaks Park Historic Amusement Park. The team enjoyed a fun day of working and playing together, all for a worthy cause.

Beth's Buddies collected over $3,600 to fund ongoing diabetes research. Team members individually collected donations and the team put on a spaghetti feed earlier in September with proceeds going to JDRF.

Kids of all ages made up the team, which included the lone High School sophomore health class. The sophomore's participation in the Walk To Cure Diabetes was the first leg of a two day field trip. The following day, the class toured the BioResearch Department of OHSU and the Shriner's Hospital.

Burman holds music workshop for Heppner students

On Tuesday, October 7, Sandip Burman came to Heppner and taught the Heppner High School band and choir students about methods of music.

Mr. Burman does classical Indian music from India. He has worked with George Harrison from the Beatles and Steve Smith from Journey. He has also done music for Tim Burton films. He plays a Sitar which is a 20 stringed instrument and the hand drums.

Mr. Burman has an intense workshop that teaches music from around the world and teaches basic fundamentals.

Cardinals beat Honker 64-32

The Ione Cardinals took on the shorthanded Arlington Honkers last Friday night, coming away with a 64-32 win. The Honkers suited up just 10 players but played tough. The win moves Ione's season record to 4-3 and their Big Sky mark to 3-1.

Although the outcome was never in doubt, Coach Dennis Stefani and his team really didn't know what to expect from the Honker team who had defeated Condon/Wheeler the week before. But Coach Stefani liked what he saw. "The kids responded well after the South Wasco loss," he said. "I was impressed with the play of our line."

The Cards dominated from the start, putting up 34 unanswered points in the first quarter.

Cory Peterson picked up an Arlington fumble and ran in for a score 50 seconds into the game. On the Cards' next offensive series, Peterson took off for a 59 yard touchdown romp on the first play from scrimmage. On the following possession, Peterson again gave the Arlington defense the slip.

Mustang volleyball team moves from sixth to fourth place

This week, the Mustangs moved up in the Oregon state 2A coaches poll from sixth place with 19 votes to fourth place with 32 votes. The Mustangs are currently nine wins and one loss for league play.

Last week the Mustangs traveled to Pilot Rock they got off to a slow start caused by some player illnesses. But, after some adjustments and a great serving show from Brandi Hong, the mustangs won the match 25-21, 20-25, 10-25, and 19-25.

Saturday the Mustangs played Elgin at home, still short some players. They had a rough start but proved their tenacity by coming from behind to win the match.

Lenka Dobosova had the team high with 14 kills. Taighler Dougherty had 12 kills and Sherilyn Peck had 10. Maggie Armato had a team high of 28 assists and Dobosova had 21 assists.

This Thursday the Mustangs will meet the Oregon State 2A #1 ranked Weston-McEwen Tiger Scotts at home. It will be senior night and the volleyball team will be holding a soup feed. Both the soup feed and the JV game will start at 5 p.m.

The team hopes that everyone will come and watch what could be their most exciting game all season.

Homecoming week successful for Heppner

Two weeks ago was Homecoming week for the Heppner Mustangs. The volleyball team played the Stanfield Tigers for Homecoming and won in just three games. The varsity football team did just as well, beating the Union Bobcats by a score of 32-0.

The Homecoming ceremonies took place at half time of the football game on Friday. The court consisted of Junior Princes Wacy Coil and Brent Eckman who escorted Princesses Jessica Hughes and Brynna Rust. The senior class was represented by Princes Spencer Palmer and Sam King and Princesses Kathryn Strouse and Kaylee Helfrecht, and King Braden Britt and Queen Sherilyn Peck.

The week was very successful as a whole, but the popular favorite was Nerd Day. Wednesday, was not only Nerd Day but the food eating contest and the mud tug-o'-war. Nerd Day also received the most participation as far as dress up. Blue and Gold Day also had a lot of success and was a fan favorite.
