Oregon East Symphony's "Red, White, and Blue Jeans Bash" fundraiser to be held

The Oregon East Symphony will hold their annual "Red, White, and Blue Jeans Bash" on Saturday, February 7, beginning at 6 p.m. at Hamley's Slick-fork Saloon.

The evening begins with drinks and music by the Capelli String Quartet. An old-fashioned Hamley's BBQ buffet will be served, followed by an exciting live auction. Auction items include getaway packages, jewelry, wine, and an amazing collection of original art. After the auction, kick up your heels into the evening with Pendleton's own Blue Pass bluegrass ensemble, featuring Emily and Isaac Callender.

"This event features a wonderful combination of food, drink, and music, all set in a wonderful locale at Hamleys," says OES Executive Director, Christina van der Kamp, "This is our largest fundraiser of the season, and we hope to see everyone out to support their local symphony and our youth programs."

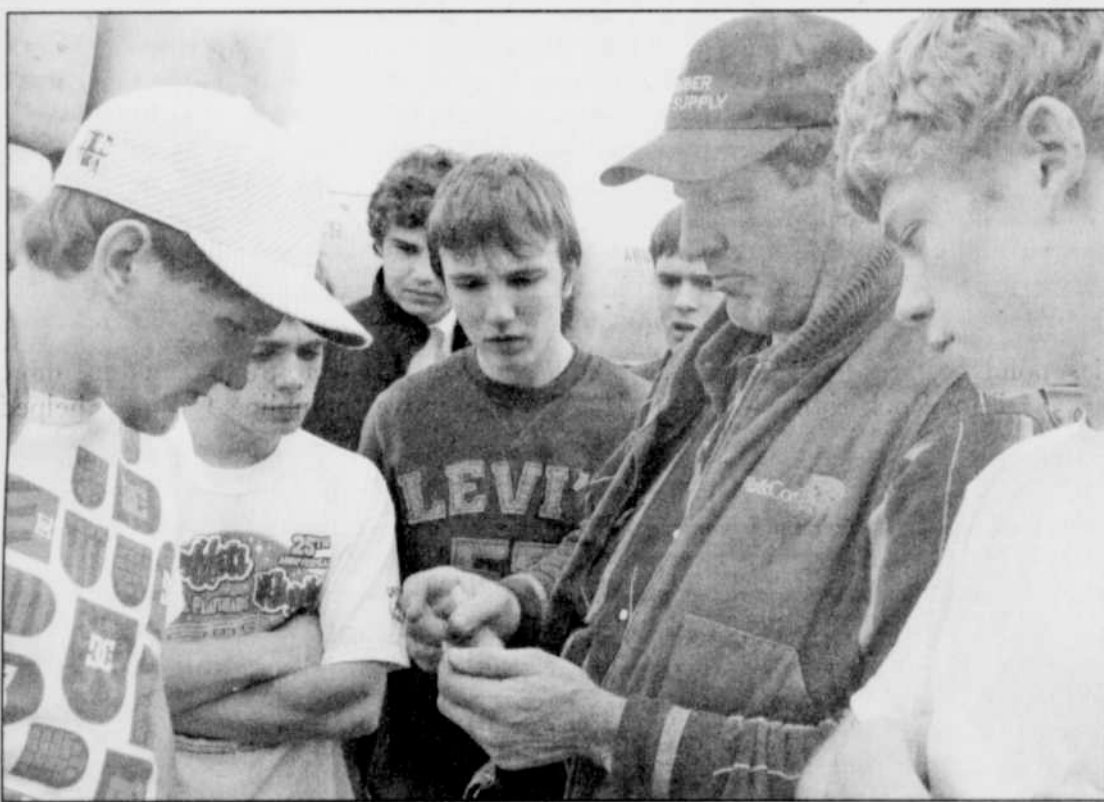

Tickets are on sale through Monday, February 2, and are available at the Oregon East Symphony office (lower floor of the Vert Auditorium) or at Armchair Books (39 SW Dorion). Tickets are $35 per person, which includes food, entertainment and a free drink.

HHS technology dept. creates new signs for gym

The technology department at Heppner High School has helped the ASB to create home and visitor sections, as well as a new student section in the high school's gym. The student section titled "The Herd" will now be displayed above the North West corner of the gym.

The title of "The Herd" was given to the new student section by boys basketball head coach Dave Norton. The hope is that giving the students a centralized place to cheer will increase participation and school spirit.

The technology department created the stickers that were placed on the wall below the mustang artwork that was donated to the school. Hopefully this will start a new tradition that will carry over into years to come.
