Currin wins class trip for HES fourth graders

On Friday, April 24, the fourth grade class at Heppner Elementary School took a field trip to "Agfest" in Salem. Kolby Currin's essay placed in the top five of approximately 140-150 essays entered into the "McDonald's What We're Made of" contest and won the trip for his class. Currin's winning essay is printed below:

I like living on a ranch! I enjoy waking up to check cows and to feed. Going to the mountains and gathering cattle is very fun. The sun shines and the wind cools me off. I think living on a ranch is very cool. Living on a ranch is a big project, but I like helping my dad. I enjoy riding my horse in the mountains. When it's branding time I love to help, and pushing off hay to the cattle. Cutting and baling hay is slow but my dad enjoys me helping him.

When it is spring I enjoy branding and sending cows to the mountains. Summer comes and the cows are in the mountains, and we start cutting and baling hay. In the fall we gather the cows and send the yearlings to the feed lot to be sold. And in the winter we start to calve.

Not many kids get to live on a ranch. Ranches help make food like beef. Without farms we would not have much food. I like helping my dad with the cattle. I think that is awesome.
