There's a new way to enter the Morrow County Rodeo this year -- via email

The Morrow County Rodeo will be held on Sunday, August 8, this year. To enter this rodeo the contestant must be a Morrow County alumni or a Morrow County resident for at least one year. Awards are given for the winner of each event including all around. All of the awards are donated by local businesses or local residents and are very much appreciated by the rodeo committee.

One event in particular has an award that many have treasured-the Shad Hisler Memorial Calf Riding Champion buckle. This is a special buckle that is given by the Paul and Susan Hisler family in memory of their son and brother, Shad Hisler who loved the Morrow County Rodeo and competing in calf riding. Many contestants have competed for this coveted prize and treasure the buckle as it holds special meaning for those who have won it.

A new way of entering the rodeo is via email. You can find the new entry form on the county's website at: <http://www.morrowcountyoregon.com/fair/index.html>. Simply click on the link titled MOCO Rodeo Entry Form. The form can be completed electronically, attached to an email and sent to: mocorodeo@hotmail.com. You can also print the form and mail it or drop it by the rodeo office along with your entry fees. All entry fees must be paid by Friday prior to the rodeo. In the past the rodeo office has been open during fair week, however this year it may not be open at all times, so the easiest way may be to submit your entry via email.

Anyone who has questions about the Morrow County Rodeo, the Oregon Trail Pro Rodeo or for the rodeo committee may also submit questions via email to mocorodeo@hotmail.com as well. If you would like us to email you the entry form, send us a request at the email address and we will forward a copy to you. Hoping to see all of you at the OTPR and the MOCO rodeo this year!
