Lady Cards take third in volleyball state tournament

The Ione Lady Cardinals capped an exciting and successful season with an improbable comeback win for the third place trophy at last weekend's OSAA State 1A Volleyball Tournament at Pacific University in Forest Grove.

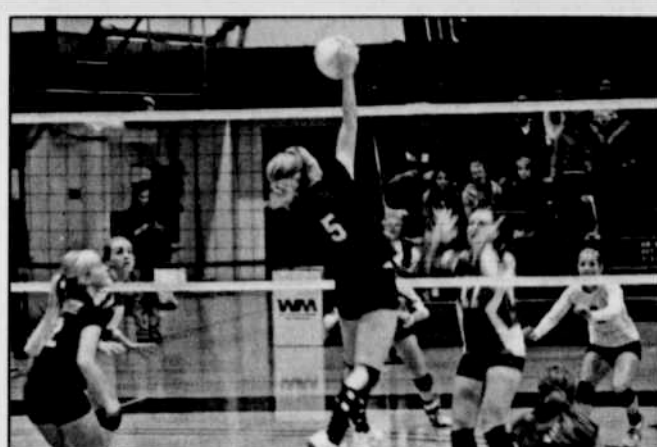

The Lady Cards kicked off state tourney play against the number one seed from the Mountain Valley League, Hosanna Christian of Klamath Falls. Coach Dawn Eynetich worried that her team's lack of experience at the state tournament might show up as a bad case of nerves but she was pleasantly surprised when the team took the court ready to play. The Cardinals never trailed in game one and never let the Lady Lions closer than three points on the way to a 25-17 win. Ione was able to effectively shut down Hosanna's big hitter which threw them into a tailspin. "Basically they fell apart," noted Coach Eynetich as the Lady Cards went on to win the next two games, 25-10, 25-10. The Ione hitters shared the wealth at the net, led by Joanna Patton with 10 kills. Beth Morter added nine while Shadow Kendrick had seven and Siren Endresen had five. Shadow Kendrick kept her perfect serving streak alive and threw in three aces for good measure. Joanna Patton also had flawless serving with four aces.

"The girls came out and played very well in the match," noted Coach Eynetich.

That win booked them in a semi-final match up with Powder Valley, the state's number two ranked team, in a game set for later that same day. Where the state tourney jitters were kept under control in the morning set, they showed up big time in the evening. Six missed serves and a lot of little mistakes gave the Badgers the first game 25-17. In game two, Powder was hitting on all eight, and while the Lady Cards hung tight in the early going, the opponent pulled away to win 25-19. In game three, Ione got out in front and led 16-11 before the Badgers swung the momentum back their way. Powder took the final game 25-20 to win the match and dash the Cardinals hope of playing for a state title.

"When you play a team like that, you have to make the least amount of mistakes to win," said Coach Eynetich. "We just couldn't get our act together."

The disappointed Cardinals needed to remember that the tournament wasn't over and they would still need to play well in the third place game the next day at noon against a tall St. Paul team. As they took the court for that game, they looked up to the challenge. Ione built a 12-7 lead and stayed out front until the Bucks caught them at point 19. From there it seemed, the Lady Cardinals lost their focus and lost game one 20-25. Game two, by all accounts, was a trainwreck. Beth Morter, a Type 1 diabetic, encountered a low blood sugar at the end of game one and into game two. "When Beth's blood sugar went wacky, we all went wacky," said Eynetich. The team got down 0-8 and looked nothing like the team that had been playing so well all year with bad hits, silly mistakes and even the first missed serve of the entire year for the normally unflappable server, Shadow Kendrick. Despite all the dismay, the team clawed their way back into the game but they "just couldn't finish it" said Eynetich. With a final score of 25-21 in favor of St. Paul, the Lady Cardinals were looking down the barrel of a quick and unpleasant end to their season. In the huddle after the second game, Coach Eynetich laid it on the line. "I told them- this is it. This is your chance. Either get your heads in the game or we're going home in fifth place." Senior taskmaster,

Beth Morter emphatically told the team that she didn't come to state to go home with a fifth place trophy. Whatever the combination, it seemed a different team took the court in game three. Joanna Patton put down seven kills in that game alone as the Lady Cards rattled the Bucks and won game three, 25-13. With the momentum firmly behind Ione, the Lady Cards kept St Paul at bay for the entire game four. Makenna Ramos served the first four points, including an ace and Mary Rietmann served eight points in a row to turn an 11-7 lead into a 19-7 margin as the Lady Cards ran away with the game 25-11. With both crowds making lots of noise, the tie breaker game was on. Ione got out to a 5-1 lead mainly on the back of bad hits from the Lady Bucks. St Paul closed the gap but never got ahead. Joanna Patton put down an emphatic kill to move Ione to game point and after St. Paul responded with a kill of their own, Shadow Kendrick smacked a kill for the winning point in the most unbelievable of comeback wins.

"Once we won the third game, we got the momentum and never backed down," said Coach Eynetich. "I think St. Paul thought they had it won."

"Overall the girls should be really proud of themselves. They had to live up to a third place ranking all season so to take home the third place trophy is just awesome."

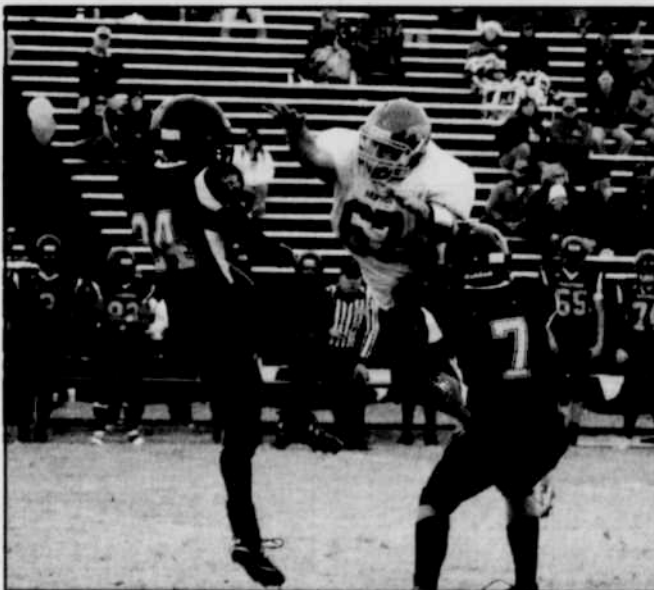

Joanna Patton had an outstanding game all over the court. "Her back row play was phenomenal, she served great and she just hit and hit," said Eynetich. Patton finished the game with 20 kills and was named to the All State First Team. Makenna Ramos, the team's steadfast setter, worked hard the entire tournament and was named to the second team. Beth Morter put down 11 kills of her own in the match.
