CRB looking for volunteers

The Citizen Review Board (CRB), is looking for volunteer board members to serve on its boards and perform reviews of cases of children in foster and substitute care.

The CRB, a component of the Oregon Judicial Department, is composed of well trained community volunteers. Board members volunteer one to two days per month to study case materials and participate in administrative reviews of children placed in foster care.

The CRB creates a system of checks and balances in which the community has both input and impact on how the Department of Human Services serves the children and families of Oregon. In addition, board members play an integral role in local and statewide advocacy efforts to improve foster care in Oregon.

After successful completion of a comprehensive training program, each board member is placed on a board that meets one day per month. A typical review day is eight to ten cases. For each case, board members study case documents and participate in an administrative review in which legal and interested parties are invited. For each case, the board makes findings regarding state and federal law, and recommendations to the parties and the court. The board also tracks system issues and advocates for system improvements.

Those interested in volunteering can contact the Portland office at 503-731-3007 or by e-mail at CRB.Volunteer.Resources@ojd.state.or.us.

National "Friends" official to offer two eastern Oregon workshops

Eastern Oregon libraries, museums, cultural coalitions and other non-profits that are struggling to stay financially stable or increase patronage are invited to participate in a special workshop for a wealth of ideas to help strengthen their organizations.

Workshop leader Sally Gardner Reed is national executive director of the Association of Library Trustees, Advocates, Friends and Foundations (ALTAFF), a division of the American Library Association. Reed will be presenting "Think Big! Great Ideas on How to Prosper With Friends Groups."

The first "Think Big!" workshop will be held in Canyon City on Friday, May 13 from 12:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the Canyon City Community Hall, directly south of the city hall on S. Washington St.

Reed will offer her workshop again on May 14 from 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Hermiston Public Library, 235 E. Gladys Ave. in Hermiston.

The workshops will focus on best practices for friends groups and supporters of cultural organizations or institutions. They are designed to help these organizations or institutions prosper in today's economic climate by providing innovative ideas for increasing a funding base, community-based planning, public awareness and sound marketing.

The "Think Big!" workshops are sponsored by Libraries of Eastern Oregon (LEO) and the Umatilla County Special Library District.

There is no charge to attend. A catered lunch will be provided at $5 per attendee.

Advance registration is requested. Space is limited and anyone interested is encouraged to register no later than May 10 to leolibraries@gmail.com.

"We're pleased to bring a nationally known speaker of this caliber to eastern Oregon," said Ken Reading, LEO board chair and director of the Umatilla County Special Library District. "It's a great opportunity and we're hoping for a strong turn-out."

For further information, please contact Reading at 541-276-6449 or LEO exec. director Lyn Craig at 541-763-2355.

Boardman man enlists in Naval program

Civilian Cody L. Parker, son of Heidi L. and Timothy R. Parker of Boardman, recently enlisted in the U.S. Navy under the Delayed Entry Program at Navy Recruiting District in Portland.

The program allows recruits to enter the Navy and take up to one year to complete prior commitments such as high school. Using recruiters as mentors, this program helps recruits ease into the transition from civilian to military life.

Parker will report for active duty to undergo basic training at the Navy's Recruit Training Center, Great Lakes, IL.

Parker is completing his senior year at Riverside High School.
