COUNTY GOVERNMENT

-Continued from PAGE ONE county court now making all the decisions for the county. He said the salaries of approximately $35,000 per year for each of the two commissioners could be cut in half and two more commissioners added, thus not incurring any additional expense. The county judge makes about $65,000 per year and is considered a full-time position. Under home rule, he would be replaced by a full-time professional administrator. On the subject of replacing elected positions such as assessor, clerk, treasurer and surveyor with people appointed by the court, Paustian said that would not be such a bad idea because "the elected officials up there are not very productive people." "If you (the mayor) as a citizen of Heppner think the charter should be changed, that is your right. I don't think it is a city function," councilmember High said. The council apparently agreed, and although Paustian had already mentioned the names of two Heppner residents who had expressed interest in serving on the committee, the council declined to make any appointments.

NRCS announces EQIP/WHIP cutoff

Local farmers and ranchers interested in financial and technical assistance for conservation measures on their working lands have until October 31 to apply for Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP) and Wildlife Habitat Improvement Program (WHIP) funding for Federal fiscal year 2012. "EQIP and WHIP are voluntary conservation programs to help farmers and ranchers improve and enhance the condition of water, soil, wildlife habitat, and other natural resources on private working lands," says Kacee Lathrop. The USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) accepts applications for EQIP and WHIP year-round. Funding decisions, however, are made at cutoff points during the year, with the current ranking period closing on October 31 for Morrow County. Applications that address local conservation priorities are evaluated and ranked for funding. The number of applications accepted will be based on ranking and available funding.

PHARMACIST OF THE YEAR

flute, and is active both in the community and in St. Patrick's Catholic Church. While Murray doesn't like some aspects of her job—such as struggling with insurance companies and squeezing payments from Medicaid—helping people makes all the struggles worthwhile. She's also quick to share the acclaim, noting that she has a hard-working, professional staff. "I couldn't do it without my pharmacy team," she says. "They're great." Daughter of Port of Morrow Commissioner, Larry Lindsay, and Corrine Lindsay, Ann was born and raised in Morrow County. When she married John Murray, she married into a family that has a long history of operating local pharmacies. Father-in-law Rod Murray remains active in the family's Condon store, and one of John's brothers and his sister are both pharmacists. Ann and John's daughter, 23-year-old Laurie, also plans to follow her parents in the profession. Laurie is in her sixth year in the pharmacy program at Oregon State University. The couple also has four sons, Luke, Sean, Ian and Kevin. With such close connections to the community, Ann says the best part of her job is helping and working with local friends and family. "When you know people, you can make a difference. You care," she says. "It's never boring."
