Obituaries

Glenn W. Smith

Glenn Smith, 89, long-time Heppner resident, died Monday, October 24 at his residence in Bend, OR. A graveside service with military honors will be held on Friday, October 28 at 1 p.m. at the Heppner Masonic Cemetery.

Glenn was born on September 17, 1922 in Emmett, ID, son of Martin and Nancy Webb Smith. He was the youngest of nine children; seven boys and two girls. He was raised on the family farm in Emmett and moved to Pondosa, OR in 1940. There, he met and married Lennadell Wells in 1942.

Glenn enlisted in the U.S. Navy in 1942 and served aboard a naval ship in the Pacific theater. He received an honorable discharge in 1945 and returned to Pondosa to work in the lumber industry.

Glenn worked for lumber companies most of his life and retired from Kinzua Corp. in 1985 as head sawyer. After his retirement, he and Lenna fulfilled their lifelong goal of traveling the world.

He loved hunting and fishing with family and friends, and gardening. He was fondly known as the "tomato man" on Morgan Street in Heppner

Glenn was a life-long member of the Heppner B.P.O.E #358, the Methodist Church, American Legion and US Naval Reserves.

Survivors include: wife Lenna of Bend; brother Ernie Smith of LaGrande, OR; daughter Judy Knight and son Michael, both of Bend; grandchildren Kimberle of Redmond, OR, and Nance and Brent of Bend; six great-grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

Sweeney Mortuary of Heppner is in charge of arrangements.

Ione Community Church open Halloween

On Monday, October 31, Ione Community Church will be open from 5:30 and 8:30 p.m. for trick-or-treaters and their families.

"Everyone is invited to come in, grab some candy, warm up by the fireplace, and have some hot cocoa or coffee," says Pastor Stacey Shelton. "All are welcome." Crafts will be available as well.

HHS helps HES carnival

When the Heppner Elementary Parent-Teacher Club met to discuss the upcoming annual school carnival, they realized that many of the props for the games and activities had seen better days. PTC President Carri Grieb suggested contacting Dave Fowler at Heppner High to see if his students would be interested in building new and improved carnival games.

"Everyone at Heppner High remembers the fun of Carnival Night at HES," said a project spokesperson, "so the members of the Heppner High Manufacturing and Engineering Department were anxious to help create new memories."

So far, the high-schoolers have created new boards for the Football Toss, the Bean Bag Throw and the Balloon Pop. Many other projects are in the works and will be done in plenty of time for the Thursday, November 10 carnival date.

The carnival is held in the HES gym, but the fundraiser's festivities begin in the cafeteria at 5:30 p.m. with dinner of chili, baked potatoes and hot dogs. The carnival will take place from 6:00-7:30 p.m.

FBLA says "think pink" this Halloween

The Heppner High School Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) is asking everyone to think pink this Halloween.

In celebration of the end of October (Breast Cancer Awareness Month), the Heppner FBLA is inviting all businesses and community members to participate in one final fundraiser for breast cancer awareness. As part of this support drive, they are asking everyone in the Heppner/Lexington community, including the elementary school and high school, to wear some sort of pink on Halloween.

"We realize that business and community members may be dressed up; however, we are asking that you wear some sort of pink," states FBLA advisor Jeannie Collins.

To make participation easier, the FBLA is selling pink T-shirts and other miscellaneous items to help support the cause. T-shirts will be available for $15.

FBLA members will also be out during the day taking pictures of participants in their costumes. Pictures, and the total amount of money collected, will be published in the Gazette-Times after Halloween.

If there are any questions, contact Jeannie Collins at jean.collins@morrow.k12.or.us.

Businesses keep Heppner attractive

To the editor,
I would like to take this opportunity to recognize the Heppner main streets businesses for their continuing effort to keep the highways through town looking good and litter-free.

One of Heppner's important assets is its good appearance for ourselves and our visitors. Our community businesses are important contributors to how we look.

Sincerely,
John Edmondson

Vote yes for fire hall

Voters of Lexington,
We would like to clear up some misinformation that was published in a letter to the editor in last week's Gazette. First of all, the cost of the new Fire Hall is $162,000—which includes the new septic system—not $200,000. Of that $162,000, we already have $38,000 from grants and pledges. We are asking for $200,000 of bonding authority based on legal advice from the town's attorney in case we incur unforeseen expenses. We do not plan to spend one cent more than we have to.

Yes, you are already paying $2 per thousand to support the department. These taxes will cover the cost of heat and power in the new building after it is constructed.

At this time we would also like to point out that the Lexington bond listed on your current property tax statement will be paid off this year. The new Fire Hall bond will simply take its place next year at a slightly higher rate.

We are building a Fire Hall to house the equipment that we have...two fire trucks and two pick-up style brush rigs. Why construct a new building that will not house all of the equipment?

Thank you and please vote yes!
Mayor Jean Brazell

BEO collects coins for a cause

Bank of Eastern Oregon's employees had a loose coin challenge amongst departments to see which groups could collect the most coins to donate to the Susan G. Komen Foundation. Pink collection buckets were placed in each building. BEO's employees came up with $473.79. Bank of Eastern Oregon will match that figure, rounding it up to a $1,000 donation. -Contributed photo

"Sew Oregon" visits Heppner

October 7 through 22 saw approximately 125 "shop hoppers" and their family members come through Heppner for the fifth annual "Sew Oregon" statewide quilting shop hop. Every one of the shoppers drove at least 158 miles from the next closest shop to visit Heppner and get an official stamp at the Quilter's Round-Up to prove they'd been there.

The shop-hoppers not only shopped for sewing supplies, but also dined at Heppner's eating establishments and purchased gas and groceries. Some stayed in the motel or RV sites. The town's hospitality was at its best, especially at the Northwest Motel, which provided a place for one couple to spend the night even though the motel was already full.

The shop-hoppers said they loved the quilt shop, the historical courthouse and the town in general. Some said the plan to return for the annual St. Patrick's celebration.

Community lunch menu

St. Patrick's Catholic Parish members will be serving lunch on Wednesday, November 2 at St. Patrick's Senior Center.

The meal will include chicken fettuccini, peas and carrots, Jell-O with fruit, garlic bread and apple crisp.

Milk is served at each meal.

Suggested donation is $3.50 per meal.

Menu is subject to change.

Congratulations to Miguel Calvillo,

Morrow County Grain Growers employee of the quarter. Miguel has been with MCGG at our Boardman Napa store for over 4 years, where he is assistant manager.

He is being recognized for his excellent customer service skills, as well as being a terrific asset to MCGG. He goes above and beyond with every customer he deals with.

Good Job Miguel!!
