

Ione track shines in rankings

Mustang Invitational

The Ione track team was met with a rather blustery day for the Mustang Invitational in Heppner on May 4, with squalls bringing rain showers intermittently throughout the day. Setting high school benchmarks by competing in a new event at the Mustang Invitational were: Luke Emmel, 1500 M and high jump; Trent Cannon, 100M; Steven Holland, javelin; Emily Holland, 400M; and Charlette Burghard, 3000M.

Returning to an event to set a season bests were seniors:

-Steven Holland in the 400M; he competed in this race last year and is now in the District 3 top 10.

-Trent Cannon in the shot put; he competed in the shot put at his previous school.

-Luke Emmel hasn't competed in the 1500M since junior high. He is also now in the District 3 top 10 in this event.

-Makenna Ramos bested her 400M time from last week after returning to the event. She hadn't run the 400M since her freshman year. She is quickly becoming a contender in the 400M, currently holding onto third in the District 3 top 10.

-Jeremy Coleman also returned to the 1500M last week, for the first time since running the race last year. He plans to run it again next week.

"It has been fun to turn back the clock for these seniors, and to see their improvements," says Ione track coach Paula Emmel.

Senior Kaytee Burghard and senior foreign exchange student Dominika Senkerikova also have seen steady improvement throughout the season.

Athletes setting PRs were: Bailey Haguewood, long jump 19'2" and Makenna Ramos, 400M 1:09.9.

PLS IA Track Classic

The team competed under an overcast but fortunately rain-free sky in Portland on May 5.

Thirteen of Ione's 15 team members qualified for this meet, which had qualifying standards for attendance. The meet was designed to be a pre-district/state meet, and took only the best of the IA leagues.

Twelve athletes from Ione were scheduled to go but due to illness, etc., only nine attended. Of those nine, all but one were on the awards podium at least once by placing in the top eight.

"We were very proud of our athletes," say coaches Rudolf and Emmel. "We were particularly pleased with the women's performances, as three of the four PRed, while the other one was extremely close to her PR. They have been very consistent in their events and steadily improving. The men have also been consistent and have been rising to the challenges put before them."

Placings were:
Bailey Haguewood-4th in TJ, 5th in HJ, 8th in Javelin and 4th in the 4x100 relay

Also qualifying for the meet were Evan Rietmann, Shadow Kendrick, Justin Estabrook, Kaytee Burghard, and Jeremy Coleman.

Competing in a new event was Francisco Ramirez, who ran the first leg of the 4x100 relay, subbing in for Evan Rietmann. "He did an excellent job despite being sick the previous day and suffering from a cold," says Emmel.

Setting PRs at the PLS meet were: Makenna Ramos, 400M, 1:08.02a; Charlette Burghard, 1500M, 5:46.56a; Dominika Senkerikova, shot put, 25'8.75"; and javelin, 104'6".

Heppner boy set for FBLA nationals

Conner Pappas is headed to Texas in the next stage of competition with the Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) after placing third in a state competition.

According to club advisor Jean Collins, larger schools have FBLA classes. Smaller schools like Heppner run the program as a club, with limited funds and kids working on their own or with some help from advisors like Collins.

Limited means haven't held back students like Pappas, who was one of 10 Heppner FBLA members who qualified for the state level of competition after competing in the regional competitions in La Grande recently. The state competition consisted of online tests in a "myriad" of business-related subjects ranging from accounting to administration to security. It was Pappas's performance in the cyber-security test that earned him third place at the state level and a chance to attend nationals in San Antonio, TX in June.

Pappas is the second person Collins knows of from Heppner who has qualified for nationals (the first was Ashley Wolf several years ago). However, he is the first to attend the national event. That could be because,

according to Collins,

the difficult part is only beginning.

With no scholarship programs,

students

who wish to compete at the national level have to pay for everything themselves...a hefty chunk of change that includes registration, airfare, hotel and meals. Pappas will be staying in a hotel with other Oregon

students, since, with so many kids attending

nationals, the FBLA groups

them according to state.

With local FBLA coffers depleted after sending

kids to regional and state

competitions, Collins says

Pappas is largely on his own,

trying to raise money in only a couple of months through local fundraisers. He is currently raising money through bake sales, but is looking for other money-raising opportunities.

Collins says having to pay their own way makes it difficult for kids to move on through the levels of competition,

but she's really excited at Pappas' success so far.

"I'm pretty excited; this is the first one of our kids to go,"

she says.
