came up. She likes to read, play golf and travel, as well as having an appreciation for art. When it came to retirement plans, she was concise.

"The three Rs," she said; "reading, relaxing and recreating, in no particular order."

Her marriage to Hague-wood a year later—and the subsequent birth of children Brian, Tony and Carrie—didn't end her teaching career. Haguewood taught fourth grade at HES for more than 20 years, but also taught Title I and every homeroom grade except sixth. She also substitute taught through the junior high level during maternity leaves.

Her busy schedule, complete with graduation of daughter, Carrie, this June, has left Haguewood little free time over the years.

"I don't have time for hobbies...but I will now," she said when the subject came up. She likes to read, play golf and travel, as well as having an appreciation for art. When it came to retirement plans, she was concise.

"The three Rs," she said; "reading, relaxing and recreating, in no particular order."

She added that she also plans on spending time with friends and family, particularly her children, one grandchild and 90-year-old mother. Finally, she expects to help her husband with their properties near Heppner and Lone, as well as possible substitute teaching.

Looking back over her 33-year teaching career, Haguewood found it difficult to pinpoint one thing she will miss most.

"(I'll miss) everything about the school," she said. "We're a family here."

Poker & cribbage tournament planned

The Lone Red, White and Blues annual Texas Hold 'Em Poker and Cribbage tournament will be held Friday, June 29, at the Lone Legion Hall. Doors will open at 5:30 p.m.

The evening will begin with a mighty tasty meal of smoked pulled pork, hand-made coleslaw, slow-cooked baked beans, and hand-prepared chili Verde.

"The pulled pork is slowly cooked on Traeger barbecues using a unique blend of spices and seasonings, insuring an inviting aroma and an amazing savory taste," comments an event spokesperson. "The coleslaw, baked beans and chili Verde are all hand-prepared and are derived from family recipes."

The meal will be completed with a variety of freshly baked cookies. The entire meal will be served for donation.

Poker and cribbage sign-ups will begin at 7 p.m. with play to begin at 7:30. Poker buy-in will be $40, with no late buy-in opportunities, and will pay the top four players. Cribbage buy-in is $20 and will pay the top two players. Sign-up time has been set back a little this year to accommodate the Friday schedule.

Newly opened Route 74 will provide the no-host bar.

"The poker tournament is a great way to help raise funds for worthwhile projects and makes for a great evening spent with friends," says a tournament coordinator. "Playing cribbage is a fun and relaxing way to spend the evening and to help donate to the 4th of July activities."

Proceeds raised will help fund the Lone Red, White and Blues celebration.

Stillman chosen for all-star game

Micah Stillman of Lexington has been chosen to play in the Oregon 8-Man All-Star Football Game. Stillman, the son of Susie and Berl Stillman of Lexington, is a recent graduate of Lone High School. He was nominated to play with other outstanding athletes from around the state by Oregon 8-Man coaches.

The 8-Man All-Star game will be held on Saturday, June 23, in the Community Stadium on the Eastern Oregon University Campus. Kick-off is at 1 p.m.

Retirement potluck planned

A community potluck honoring Barb Collin upon her retirement will be held June 26 from 6-8 p.m. in the Lone High School cafeteria. Families with last names A-M are asked to bring a main dish; last names N-Z, bring a salad. The entire community is invited.

Whooping cough situation in northwest

Article provided by the Morrow County Health Department.

Outbreaks of Pertussis (commonly known as whooping cough) are occurring in Washington and in Oregon. Most Oregon cases are on the west side of the state; there are currently no cases of the disease in Morrow County.

"We know people are hearing about and are perhaps concerned about pertussis," says Shelley Wight, Communicable Disease Coordinator for the Morrow County Health Department. "The health department is monitoring the situation in partnership with the Acute and Communicable Disease program of the Oregon Health Authority and our local medical providers. We want to be ready to identify cases and take the necessary actions to reduce the spread of the disease should we begin to get pertussis cases in the county."

Whooping cough is a respiratory disease caused by bacteria that live in the nose, mouth and throat of infected individuals. It often causes serious problems in babies, but is usually milder in older children and adults. While pertussis can occur at any age, infants and young children are at the highest risk of life-threatening consequences. Almost half of the 525 infants diagnosed with pertussis in Oregon since 2000 have had to be hospitalized.

The first symptoms—runny nose, sneezing, mild fever and cough—usually appear five to 21 days after a person is infected. After one or two weeks, the cough gets worse and starts to occur in strong coughing fits. In young children, these coughing fits are followed by a whooping sound as they try to catch their breath. The strong coughing may cause people to vomit or turn blue from a lack of air. It may be hard for babies to eat, drink or breathe. The disease can last six weeks or longer.

There are things people can do to protect themselves and their families from whooping cough:

-Get yourself and your family vaccinated. See your medical provider or call the Morrow County Health Department to check on your immunization status.

-All children should have the complete DTaP vaccination series.

-At age 11-12, children need a booster shot in order to extend their protection.

-All adults over age 19 who have not received a booster shot should get one. While an adult with pertussis may not become very sick, they can infect a vulnerable infant.

-Pregnant women should be vaccinated after their 20th week.

Use good health manners, as pertussis is highly contagious and spreads easily by coughing and sneezing:

-Cover your sneeze or cough with a tissue or your sleeve—not your hands.

Touching a tissue or sharing a cup can also spread the disease.

-If you are sick, stay home and avoid being near infants.

-If sick or caring for someone sick, wash your hands often to avoid spreading germs.

-See your medical provider if you have a severe cough or a cough lasting more than two weeks. Your doctor can diagnose the disease based on symptoms and laboratory tests.

"Pertussis is a dangerous disease, especially for infants and young children who are not yet fully immunized," says Health Director Sheree Smith. "Even if you are fully immunized, there is no guarantee you won't get the disease."

Area churches plan VBS programs

St. Patrick's Catholic Church will hold vacation Bible School June 25-28 from 9 a.m. to noon at the St. Patrick's parish hall. Contact 541-676-9462 for more information.

Several other area churches have banded together to hold VBS for children ages four through 12 on the Hope Lutheran parsonage lawn. That VBS will be held Monday, June 25, through Friday, June 29; it will begin each evening with a free supper at 6 p.m. and will conclude at 8:30 p.m. A kick-off barbecue will be held on Sunday, June 24, at 6 p.m. so parents and students can meet the staff, pre-register children and enjoy a free meal for the whole family. Call 541-676-9970 for more information.

Elks offers college scholarships

Heppner Elks BPOE #358 will once again this year offer scholarships to students in honor of the late Clarence Buchanan.

The current scholarship is for any second- through fourth-year college students, trade school students or graduate school students who are either members themselves or have a parent/grandparent or step-parent/step-grandparent who are members-in-good-standing of the Heppner lodge. The application will be available via email. Anyone who needs a copy of the application can email scholarship chairman Tim Dickenson at dickensonchiro@centurytel.net, stop by his office or call 541-676-8990. Applications are due June 30.

Local teen named OHSRA queen

Lillian Sandford, a junior at Heppner High School, earned the title of Miss Oregon High School Rodeo Association Queen

Lillian Sandford

last weekend at the Oregon High School Rodeo Finals in Prineville. She competed in appearance, speech, modeling, interviews, horsemanship and a written test on National High School Rodeo knowledge.

Sandford has earned a position on the Oregon high school rodeo team and will be traveling with her teammates to Rock Springs, WY July 13-21 to compete at the 64th annual National High School Finals Rodeo (NHSFR) in the Queen competition.

The NHSFR will host state and provincial queens representing their high schools, as well as rodeo queens from Australia.

"This will be a great opportunity for meeting new people, making lifelong friends while competing in a week-long pageant that has the young ladies busy from dawn to dusk each and every day," says Sandford's mother, Sylvia Sandford.

Sandford is fundraising for her outfits and travel expenses to Wyoming. Anyone who would like to contribute to her reign can contact her at 541-571-5930.

Sandford resides in Lone with her parents; Rick and Sylvia Sandford, and sister Ivy. She is an active member and officer of Heppner FFA, National Honor Society and FBLA, as well as Morrow County

4-H ambassador and junior 4-H leader. She plans on a busy summer of travel and representing Oregon high school rodeo "to her fullest ability."
