

Lakeview Heights info meeting planned

On Feb. 28 at 7 p.m., Community Counseling Solutions Executive Director Kimberly Lindsay and Lakeview Heights Administrator Matt Bergstrom will be at Heppner City Hall to speak about Lakeview Heights Secure Residential Treatment Facility.

They will be speaking about topics such as current happenings at the facility, services provided, admissions, discharges, employment information, community investment, benefit to community and state, and much more.

Chili competition to be held at Community Bank

Everyone is invited to sample chili at a chili competition at Community Bank, 127 N. Main, Heppner, on Monday, Feb. 25, National Chili Day.

Not only will chili samples be available, but people stopping by can vote for their favorite chili recipe. Any donations received will go toward Relay for Life.

WRESTLING CHAMPS

nating 15-7 major decision over the number-one seed Corey Jenkins from Crane, who had defeated Smith just one week before.

Maben and Propheter also claimed their first district championships, both defeating an Enterprise challenger. Although Maben won 4-2 and Propheter 10-6, the matches weren't that close and there was little doubt of the eventual champion.

All six Heppner finalists will compete at the OSAA state championships on Feb. 22 and 23 in Portland's Memorial Coliseum. The state brackets can be found on OSAA's website and will be updated periodically though the tournament.

FFA to trade goodies for food

The Heppner FFA chapter will be handing out free coffee and doughnuts from 8-10 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 23, with any non-perishable canned food or cash donations brought to Les Schwab for its first cooperative canned-food drive. There will also be a raffle ticket drawing; all proceeds will go to our local food bank.
