Scammers seek money for bogus traffic tickets

Scammers claiming to be with the Oregon State Police (OSP) are placing pre-recorded phone calls to Oregonians telling them they owe money for unpaid traffic tickets and asking that a Green Dot Money-Pak card be used to make the payment. These calls, which may begin with a siren sound, are fraudulent and should be ignored, warned the OSP and the Oregon Department of Justice.

On March 26 OSP got a report of the scam when a citizen reported getting a phone call from a restricted number. Following a siren sound, an automated voice identified himself as "Alex James Murphy with the Oregon State Police." The caller stated a "bench warrant" had been issued on an unpaid speeding ticket issued on Interstate 205. The pre-recorded call gave further instructions to purchase a Green Dot Money-Pak reloadable debit card and place $154 on the card, then call back to another phone number in the (203) area code and provide the Green Dot card number and security code to pay the citation and avoid further legal action.

In November 2012, OSP received complaints from citizens regarding similar telephone calls from individuals claiming to be OSP troopers demanding money in exchange for dropping criminal charges or clearing arrest warrants. Two similar cases involved callers using titles of "Officer" and "Deputy".

OSP reminds you to be aware that: OSP or any other legitimate law enforcement agency does not call citizens seeking payment for outstanding traffic citations. OSP does not call individuals and demand money from citizens under any circumstances. Individuals claiming to collect debts may try to instill fear in potential victims to persuade them to forward money.

The Oregon Judicial Department advises that courts may use an independent collection service to collect unpaid monetary judgments and fines. If someone believes they are being scammed regarding an alleged unpaid traffic citation or other court-imposed financial obligation they can: Ask the collector (caller) for information specific to the alleged unpaid traffic citation. The caller should have the court case number, date of ticket and vehicle license number. Verify the debt or confirm other details by calling the OJD collections hotline at 1-888-564-2828. Use OJD Courts ePay to directly pay money owed to state courts for most traffic citations, civil fees or criminal fines.
