A pathway to jobs. An investment in rural counties.

the Morrow Pacific project

Speak now to bring jobs and opportunity to Eastern Oregon.

Morrow Pacific is a coal export project that will bring family-wage jobs and new economic opportunities to Eastern Oregon. From the beginning, every aspect of the project has been designed to meet or exceed Oregon's high environmental standards.

A Crucial Milestone

Recently, the Morrow Pacific project received draft air and water quality permits from the Oregon Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ). The public comment period is now open, and it's essential for DEQ to hear from supporters like you.

Tuesday, July 9 • 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. • Hermiston

Visit www.morrowpacific.com/support

2 Sign up to speak at the public hearing
Blue Mountain Community College, Room 134
975 SE Columbia Drive, Hermiston
Register by visiting www.morrowpacific.com/speak

Make Your Voice Heard

Groups that oppose all coal projects will be vocal during the public comment period. That's why it's crucial for supporters to speak out now.

DEQ's decision to issue draft permits demonstrates that the project meets Oregon's standards. It should not be denied final permits because of politics.

Submit Your Comment Online

Morrow Pacific will create jobs, support schools and pay millions in property taxes and port fees, creating a ripple effect that will benefit the area. It will protect the environment by using covered barges to ship coal downriver and by eliminating or minimizing coal dust.

Don't let this opportunity pass. Submit your comment at www.morrowpacific.com and help bring jobs and opportunity to Eastern Oregon. ■

Morrow Pacific Project Fact:

The project represents a total capital investment of $242 million in Oregon. It will create more than 2,100 construction-related jobs and more than 1,000 operations-related jobs.
