

Make your pet a star

Sometimes a pet is more than a pet; sometimes it's a family member, and sometimes a pet is a star.

Anyone who thinks their pet has what it takes to outshine the competition is invited to bring them down to the fair's annual pet show and prove it. The show will take place Wednesday, Aug. 14, at 3 p.m. Categories run the gamut from Prettiest to Ugliest Pet and a few in between.

Which one will your pet win?

Proud to be a part of the history and tradition of local rodeos and fairs.

Tradition runs deep and so do our roots in our local communities. We're not just another bank. We're your friends, your partners, and your neighbors. We tip our hats to the rodeo fans, participants and organizers of the 2013 Morrow County Fair & Rodeo.

Banking as you don't know it.

Adults now allowed in FFA

No, as appealing as that may sound, adults still aren't allowed in FFA. However, they can be in the FFA Alumni.

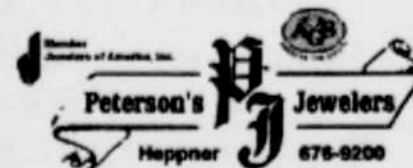

Just like the National FFA Organization, the FFA Alumni doesn't care if you grew up on or live on a farm, or even if you have a child in FFA. You do not even have to have been an FFA member to become a part of your local alumni.

The FFA Chapter Alumni are looking for people who are willing to step up and help our chapters in Morrow County succeed. If you know how to interview for a job, the alumni could use your help. If you can cook, clean, drive, volunteer, take notes, critique, fundraise or have any other skills, then you would be an asset to the local alumni chapter.

Talk with a member of your local FFA chapter or their advisor to find out how to get involved.
