

Cardinals move on to state quarterfinals

The Cardinal boys' basketball team has made it through the first two rounds of state playoffs and will head into the quarterfinals this week.

The Ione team started their journey in search of a state title by hosting Joseph on Feb. 26.

After defeating the Eagles 84-46 in the first round of playoffs, the Cardinals advanced to play Siletz Valley on the Warriors' home turf last Saturday.

The Warriors fell to Ione 74-59, leaving the path clear for the South Morrow team to advance to state quarterfinals in Baker City this Thursday, March 6.

The 1A state basketball tournament takes place March 6-8 at Baker High School in Baker City; Ione faces off against Powder Valley Thursday at 8:15 p.m.

If the Cardinals win, they move on to play the winner of the Triangle Lake/Columbia Christian matchup in the 1A state semifinals on March 7 at 8:15 p.m.

A loss to Powder Valley will place Ione in the consolation bracket March 7 at 10:45 a.m.

Broadcast coverage of Thursday's game will be provided through the OSAA Radio Network, <http://www.nfhsnetwork.com/channels/osaa-radio-network>.

Moebius poetry workshop set at Ione for March 15

What goes on and on forever?

A moebius.

Named for August Ferdinand Moebius, an early 19th-century German mathematician, the moebius is a continuous one-sided surface that has been formed into a loop from a rectangular strip by rotating one end 180° and attaching it to the other end.

Writers of all ages and levels are invited to attend a Moebius Poetry Workshop, set for Sat., March 15, from 10 a.m. to noon at the Ione Public Library.

Led by Jack Lorts, published poet and mayor of Fossil, attendees will write their own moebius poems and then mount them on a canvas moebius strip, therefore combining written and tangible art forms.

Examples of already-created moebius poems can be seen at the library. These poems have no beginning and no end, such as the following:

"...burgeoning diamonds slip silently into the soft romance of darkness, falling lightly in summer rain, like eagles eager to traverse waves of air, delighting as...

The workshop is free, although small donations toward moebius materials are welcome. The event is sponsored by Libraries of Eastern Oregon (LEO).

For further information, contact Mary Walker or Anne Morter at the Ione Public Library.
