The Cardinal track and field team attended two meets this past week, going first to Stanfield on Tuesday and then travelling to Sisters, OR for the Sisters Rotary Twilight Invitational on Friday.

In Stanfield, the Cardinals celebrated the day's perfect weather by doing well both as a team and as individuals. The girls placed second and the boys fourth out of the five teams at the event. Five athletes tried new events, almost all of them placing, and the team saw nine personal records (PRs) and one season record (SR).

In Sisters, the team faced stiffer competition but still came away with 11th for the men and 13th for the women out of a field of 17 teams. The team

Ione Legion Hall sports new roof

The Ione Legion Hall now has a new tin roof, thanks to Wildhorse Foundation, the Bank of Eastern Oregon, Columbia Basin Electric, Invenergy, Ella Farms and numerous private donors from the community.

The Legion Auxiliary was awarded a grant of $10,000 from the Wildhorse Foundation to kick off the fundraising for the roof. The Bank of Eastern Oregon followed with a $5,000 grant. The other companies gave various amounts, and the private donors made the project a reality. Seth Moses Construction won the bid for the roofing. His company started the project on February 3 and hoped to finish within approximately two weeks. Weather did not cooperate; snow and ice made being on the roof hazardous. The completion of the project ended after three weeks. The roof is guaranteed for 20 years on materials and 10 years on workmanship. The total cost came to $23,170. Members of the Legion say they are very pleased with the results.

Some lead the way so others may follow. There are those rare individuals who set an example for all of us to follow. You'll find them in church groups, service groups or as individual volunteers. Some work as teachers, in law enforcement, or BEO bankers. Whoever they are, wherever they are, they all have two things in common. They have more attention on others than they do themselves and they make your hometown a better place to live. Set a good example. Get involved in community service.

In 2013, our Heppner & Ione branch employees contributed over 3,000 hours in community service. And, BEO's Heppner & Ione Branches donated over $31,390 to help support local community organizations & school programs.
