Irrigon student named Gates Millennium Scholar for 2014

IRRIGON—Jordan Connell is one of only 1,000 students from across the country to be named a Gates Millennium Scholar for 2014, which earns her a good-through-graduation scholarship to any college or university of her choice.

Connell was selected from 52,000 applicants from around the U.S. for her strong leadership, community service and academic achievements.

Connell, who will graduate as co-valedictorian from Irrigon Jr-Sr High School on May 30 with a 4.0 cumulative GPA, is the fourth student from her school in the last five years to be named a Gates Millennium Scholar.

She will graduate with 38 college credits, and will leave behind a thriving peer tutoring program she took the incentive to begin during her freshman year.

Besides her rigorous academic schedule, Connell also has found time to participate in other school activities, including basketball, volleyball, pep band, jazz band, the National Honors Society and Key Club, where she has served as both secretary and vice president. Connell also served as the student representative on the Morrow County School District's Student Health Advisory Council, and was one of the top counselors at Irrigon's Outdoor School program last spring.
