The Lady Cardinals were two players down on Friday's games against the Honkers but they didn't give up the fight to play a hard game. Plagued with high turnovers, the Lady Cards fell short in the final minutes of the game; at one minute left in the fourth quarter they were only down one point but with the last few seconds the Honkers made two more points to win 38-35 over the Cardinals.

The Lady Cards went to Dufur prepared to fight for the win in their fourth league game against the Rangers Saturday. The girls were closely matched and in the fourth quarter the Cardinal lead came down to 45-49—too close for comfort. The Lady Cards decided to pull ahead to 55-47 for their third league win.

Tillamook County Creamery Association offers scholarships to local students

Application deadline March 15

TILLAMOOK—Tillamook County Creamery Association (TCCA) will offer at least eight $2,000 scholarships to students in Tillamook and Morrow counties this year as part of its 14th annual Excellence in Leadership scholarship program.

TCCA's Excellence in Leadership scholarship program recognizes outstanding students who demonstrate leadership through service to their school and community. Over the past 13 years, TCCA has awarded $126,000 in scholarships to more than 63 students.

The TCCA Excellence in Leadership scholarships are awarded based on leadership, community and school involvement, and scholastic achievement. Of the scholarships that will be awarded in the spring:

-At least three scholarships will be awarded to graduating high school seniors in Tillamook County;

-At least two scholarships will be awarded to graduating high school seniors in Morrow County;

-At least one scholarship will be awarded to a continuing college student;

-One of the scholarships will be awarded to the child of a current TCCA member-owner; and

-One of the scholarships will be awarded to a TCCA employee or child of iPad class planned at Ione library

IONE—The Ione Public Library will host an iPad class free to the public on Tuesday, Jan. 26, from 6-7:30 p.m. This class is for anyone with an iPad looking to better understand the device and for those curious if an iPad is right for them. Space is limited; call the library at 541-561-9828 to sign up.

Taught by Ione native Heidi Nelson, the class will cover the basics of using the iPad, such as hand gestures and switching quickly between apps. Participants should bring their own questions and things they want to learn, and those also will be covered.

Participants will leave with a list of app suggestions and a quick reference guide for using their devices.

Participants are reminded to bring their own iPads; the library has two available to borrow, first-come, first-served.

Columbia Basin Electric hosts contractors' class

Columbia Basin Electric Co-Op will be co-sponsoring a BPA Certified Installers Class in early February to qualify local HVAC, lighting, and construction contractors as qualified installers meeting the Bonneville Power Administration (BPA) Energy Efficiency and Conservation program and subsidy requirements.

The half-day seminar, which includes breakfast, is co-hosted by Columbia Basin Electric, Umatilla Electric, the City of Milton-Freewater, Oregon Trail Electric and Bonneville Power. The event has no cost to the local contractors attending, and will be held in Hermiston on Thursday, Feb. 11, from 7:30 a.m. to noon.

Invitational letters were sent to known licensed contractors during the week of Jan. 8. Any local licensed contractor who did not get a personal invitation is encouraged to contact Columbia Basin Electric for more information at 541-676-9146.

CBEC consumers who are interested in Conservation and Efficiency Rebate programs should refer to the CBEC web site at www.cbec.cc for information and contact resources. Click on the "Energy Rebate Forms" link.
