IMESD offers free hearing screenings to students this fall

PENDLETON—The InterMountain Education Service District (IMESD) will provide free hearing screenings to public elementary school students at area schools this fall.

Hearing screenings are conducted annually by the IMESD's Audiology Department for public school students in Morrow, Umatilla and Union counties.

Students to be screened include kindergarten, first and third grade students, new students to a county and parent/teacher/principal referrals of students in other grades. Children who fail the initial screening will be re-screened within a three-week period.

Screenings begin Sept.

1 and continue through Nov. 12.

Parents who do not want their child's hearing to be screened should notify their child's school as soon as possible.
