We would like to thank the parents of the HJSHS Track & Cross Country Teams for serving a great meal and Bucknum's for providing the "No-host" bar and Alita Nelson for taking the pictures with Santa. Dear Anson Strong supporters, Growing up in the small community of Ione, I always remember the feeling of constant support, no matter how big or small the feat. I recently made a visit back to Ione. The Turner girls, cousins of mine, organized an amazing fundraising event at the Legion Hall for our son, Anson, and it was quite overwhelming for my husband, Matt, and me to walk into. I have always been on the other side and never understood just how emotional it would be on the receiving end. Anson was diagnosed with Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia just after his second birthday in September. We were devastated, but knew with all the prayers, love and support we would receive, we could beat this. His diagnosis requires three years of treatment with frequent trips to Portland, at least once a week. We cannot begin to express our gratitude for all the support we have had, emotional and financial. It is beyond overwhelming to feel the love from people I have known since I was little, as well as new community members. My parents, Jim and Monica, have always taught me to have a caring and giving soul. I have done my best and am now motivated to do better. This is what small towns are all about, and I couldn't be more thankful for my family and the communities of Ione and Heppner for their support. The event raised close to $14,000, an amount I never imagined would be needed. But it is a big relief to have it, with all the medical bills that are beginning to come in the mail. Thank you especially to my sister-cousins and their husbands: Gregg and Shelly Rietmann, Todd and Missy Lindsay, Wayne and Lori Seitz and Doug and Sandi Martin. My brother, Luke Swanson, took on the task of reading our summary of Anson's diagnosis and journey, and it was appreciated very much. Also to the other family and friends who helped with the event. And, of course, Thank You to our friends and community members who attended and contributed. There were so many auction items donated that were very appreciated. With the continued prayers and support from everyone we can continue to be ANSON STRONG! He is one loved and lucky little boy, and we are proud to be his parents!

With Love,
The Fairbank Family,
Adrienne (Swanson), Matt,
Hailee and Anson
