

Track team gets three consecutive wins

The Heppner men's and women's track teams performed well in the past week of competition. The men's team came home with two more team wins, in Weston and in Stanfield, for a total of three consecutive team wins.

At the Weston-McEwen Small Schools Invite, Derek Howard started the day with two wins in shot put (48'3") and discus (119'3"). Alex Lindsay added another win in the triple jump, jumping a season record of 40'8.5". Makayla Silvia added a third place finish for the women in the long jump, jumping 14'6". The team again showed its depth with points scored in each event.

Running events started with a strong showing by the 4x100 team of Blake Wolters, Carson Brosnan and Jackson Lehman. Trevor Antonucci led the 1500m, followed by Jordan Sweeney in third. Hunter Nichols ran a personal best time of 52.8 seconds in the 400m, finishing second. Alison Cecil ran 14.6 for a sixth place in the 100m, while Jayden Wilson ran a personal best time of 12.69 seconds for a second place finish. Mason Lehman ran 26.09 in the 200m finishing second for the men, while Alison Cecil ran 30.56 for fifth place for the women.

Alex Lindsay ran a season record time of 46.78 seconds in the 300m hurdles, finishing third. The 3000m race showed Heppner in the top three places, with Hunter Nichols leading in a time of 9:48.22, followed by Trevor Antonucci and Evan Kollman.

On Saturday, fair weather allowed for good times and long distances and running and throwing events. Overall, Heppner earned eight first place finishes, two second place finishes, six third place finishes, and numerous point finishes to show the talent and depth of the team. Derek Howard won the shot put event, Alex Lindsay jumped a personal record of 19'2" in the long jump and won the triple jump as well. Hunter Nichols won both the 1500m and the 800m runs. In the 800m, Nichols ran 2:00.6, a personal record that is only .9 seconds away from the school record set in 1966. Trevor Antonucci came in third in the 1500m, and won the 3000m run. Mason Lehman won the 400m dash with a personal record of 55.46 seconds. Among the women, Madelyn Nichols finished second in the 400, and Hannah Palmer and Tiffany Hollis both ran personal best times in the 800.
