

Hughes honored in retirement ceremony

A retirement ceremony was held for Master Sgt. Travis Hughes on Friday, Sept. 28 at Langley Air-force Base. Master Sgt. Hughes enlisted after graduation from Prairie City High School and spent 20 years in active duty.

After retirement he is starting a new career as coordinator of Veteran Services at Boise State, assisting other veterans in pursuing their education. Hughes is the son of Donna Hughes

Travis Hughes of Mt. Home, ID and Terry Hughes of La Grande.

Pioneer Memorial Physical Therapy offers speech therapy

Pioneer Memorial Physical Therapy has added speech therapy. Regi Seitz of Heppner has joined the therapy team and will be serving Heppner Schools and Ione Community Schools one day per week each. She will also provide outpatient speech therapy at PMPT three days a week as well as with contracting with Pioneer Memorial Hospital and Pioneer Memorial Home Health and Hospice. She joins the team of therapists that include Krystal Seitz, OT and Shelly McCabe, PT.

Seitz received her bachelors degree in communication at Oregon State University and her master's degree from University of Montana for speech-language pathology. She has worked in schools, hospitals, and clinics with all ages, ranging from six months to over 100 years old. Regi has a specialty certification for VitalStim, which is a non-invasive neuromuscular electrical stimulation treatment program used to treat swallowing difficulties. She is also LSVT-Loud certified, a voice treatment for people with Parkinson's disease and other neurological condition.

Speech language pathologists can assess and treat difficulties understanding or using language, production of sounds, voice, memory, problem solving, attention or focus, stuttering, difficulties swallowing and facial weakness.

Pioneer Memorial Physical Therapy is located at 150 Rock Street,

Heppner. For questions or an appointment, call 541-676-2945.
