More than 50 4-H members and parents attended Farm Day, hosted by Threemile Canyon Farms, on Friday, May 10.

Members visited stations for reproduction, necropsy, nutrition, GPS, artificial insemination and potato fields set up by the professionals at the farm. They were then given a chance to ride or drive tractors. A lunch of all you can eat tacos was served and the kids were given a T-shirt and a draw string bag filled with goodies.

"Dr. Jeff Wendler and his staff at Threemile Canyon are a welcoming crew for our 4-H members and their families. What they have done, and continue to do, for the youth of our county is extremely generous," said OSU 4-H Educator, Erin Heideman.
