Ranger District schedules workshop

The Heppner Ranger District of the Umatilla National Forest is hosting a public workshop on the West End Farm Bill Categorical Exclusion (CE) project (West End Project) on Nov. 7, from 6-8 p.m. at the Heppner Ranger District office. The objective of the workshop is to discuss and receive feedback on the proposed treatments in the project area. The workshop will also feature a presentation by entomologist Mike Johnson from the Blue Mountains Forest Insect and Disease Service Center on "The Influence of Drought Stress on the Response of Trees to Bark Beetle Attacks in High Density Forest Stands."

disease infested trees and reduce stocking levels to decrease competition for moisture, light and nutrients. Proposed activities are designed to improve the ability of trees to ward off insects and diseases and decrease fuel build up from dead and dying trees, thus increasing forest stand resilience.
 The Forest Service is seeking scoping comments to help refine the proposed action and identify ways to improve project design. The comment period is an opportunity for the public to be involved in the process and offer thoughts on alternative ways the Forest Service can accomplish the project purpose and need. Forest Service will be accepting comments on the proposal until Nov. 12, 2019.
 For more information about the West End Project, please contact the Heppner Ranger District office at 541-676-9187.
 Additional information about the West End Project, including how to comment on proposed activities, is available at: <http://www.fs.fed.us/nepa/fs-usda-pdp.php/?project=56315>.

The West End Project is located west of Highway 207 approximately 28 miles southwest of Heppner. The purpose of this project is to reduce the risk and extent of an ongoing insect and disease infestation. The West End Project proposes to treat up to 3,000 acres by removing trees through mechanical treatments including commercial thinning, small diameter thinning, pile burning and prescribed fire. Treatments would remove insect and

Skookum Fire burning on the Heppner Ranger District

Forest staff on the Heppner Ranger District discovered the Skookum Fire on Thursday, Oct. 31, located approximately one mile northwest of the Alder Creek/Skookum Trailhead and two miles northeast of the Tupper Guard Station. The 17-acre fire is creeping and smoldering in a mixture of grass, brush, timber and snags (dead or burned trees). Given the time of year, hazards within the fire area, minimal fire behavior and favorable weather conditions, firefighters will patrol and monitor the fire over the next several days, allowing the fire to reduce fuel loadings and contribute to a more resilient landscape.
 The suppression strategy for the Skookum fire will aim to reduce overstocked and hazardous fuel conditions in the area, restore forest health and resilience, reduce current and future firefighter exposure and improve foraging habitat for big game. The cause of the fire is currently unknown.
 The public is asked to use caution when entering the area and be aware of increased hazards, particularly snags and smoky conditions. Smoke may be visible from Highway 207. Additionally, the Heppner Ranger District is actively implementing prescribed pile burning and forest visitors could see smoke in other portions of the district.

 Forest officials ask that visitors do not camp or hang out in a burned area. Dead or dying trees that remain standing after a fire are unstable, especially in high winds. Loose rocks and logs can be present in a burned area and are unpredictable, creating a falling hazard. Additionally, burned vegetation can also contribute to landslides, mudslides and erosion when rain occurs. The ground in a burned area can also be unstable, due to burned-out roots beneath the surface. After soils and vegetation have been charred, rainfall that would normally be absorbed could run off extremely quickly.
 The latest fire information will be posted on the Blue Mountains Fire Information Blog. To receive updates on fires in the Blue Mountains, follow our blog at <http://bluemountainfire-info.blogspot.com/>.
