Mahoney admitted to vet school

Jaiden Mahoney, a 2019 Heppner High School graduate, has been offered early admittance into the Washington State University College of Veterinary Medicine in Pullman, WA, under a special accelerated program of study. Application for the program was by invitation from the WSU Department of Animal Science, and after interviews, Jaiden earned one of ten available spots. She will begin attending veterinary school a year early, in the fall of 2022.

Jaiden's undergraduate degree will be in Animal Science and she will be focusing her veterinary studies in equine and large production animals. Mahoney earned the WSU President's honor roll both terms last year with a 4.0 GPA. She is a member of the WSU Cougar Cattle Feeders Club and partici-

Jaiden also college rodeos under the WSU colors in the Northwest Intercollegiate Rodeo Association. She is the daughter of Mike and Nicole Mahoney, Heppner.

Stokes Landing to serve meals to go

The Stokes Landing board of directors has announced the center will begin serving meals to go Monday, October 26. These meals will be prepared at the senior center and served in a drive-through at Stokes Landing in Irrigon.

Each meal will be delivered to individuals at the front of the building on Mondays. (Please watch for directional signs when picking up your order.) Pick-up for these meals will be between 12 noon and 12:30 each Monday. Payment will be accepted with correct change only or by check. Each meal for those 60 years of age and over is $4 and $5 for individuals under 60.

To order a Monday meal, call 541-922-3334 by 3 p.m. on the Friday preceding the Monday meal. The first date to order is Friday, October 23. Callers should leave their name, number of meals requested and their phone number. Pre-orders are required for meal pick-up.

Social distancing guidelines will provide safety for staff and individuals picking up meals.
