Good News Only

Air conditioners and bodies of water. Good news for most of us is that those are available during this heat wave.

"Betty Burn's Birthday Bash at Bucknum's" makes an eye-catching headline, but in truth, Betty and thirteen friends just enjoyed lunch and conversation - nothing riotous - at Bucknum's last Thursday as they celebrated Betty's 71st birthday. One celebrant submitted her "good news" as being able to spend time with friends without wearing a mask and, even more importantly, "I am still on top of the grass looking down instead of beneath it."

Yesterday, Shirley George hosted lunch for visiting Janet White, previously from Ione, and several of her friends with whom she is visiting this week as part of her long road trip.

Kelly Gray cannot praise Maui, Hawaii, enough after her eight-day stay last week. The food was "absolutely amazing," the people were "kind and laid back." "Hawaii time and weather are different," she said. Kelly and daughter Haven had a great tour guide, too, her sister, Karmin, who has been to the islands several times, and was also accompanied by her twin sons. Kelly said she did not want to get back on the plane, did not want to end her first Hawaiian-paradise experience.

Nancy Propeter has been helping some junior golf players in Heppner with their skills. Now, she is getting busier and busier with her endeavors at the Canyon Lakes Golf Course in Kennewick. She is already certified to screen players' swings, and she is now training during a clinic led by the pro in Kennewick, with coaching as a possible end result.

The summer reading program at the Ione Library began with a performance of the Dragon Theatre group and has involved 30 young readers who have joined the program so far. At the library, Becky Doherty welcomes questions and more participants.

The Heppner Library has a weekly craft project offered to its young patrons, with a preview, some instruction and then a gift of all the necessary components for each project as a take-home activity. Also, readers are encouraged to keep track of their reading time because that accumulated time could earn the reader a prize. Information is available at the library, Tuesday through Saturday.

This Sunday, the Ione Church will be holding services in the Ione Park, beginning at 10 a.m. A special choir will include its rendition of the national anthem. Guests are welcome.

At the Heppner City Park on July 11, at 5:30 p.m. Music in the Park will feature a Neymark and Sons performance. Bring a chair or blanket and enjoy.

Good news and a first for Jan Huddleston and Doris Brosnan last week was their three-game success against JoAnne Burleson and Nancy Propeter. Yes, those opponents won twelve games, but the H&B twosome felt inspired, since previously they felt lucky to win one game in twelve.

Both HHS and Ione basketball teams had good enough seasons to be included in the final statewide tournaments that concluded last weekend. Interestingly, both boys' teams won one game each and lost two, being eliminated, and both girls' teams won two and lost one each before being eliminated. Strong accomplishments teams.

Also, last weekend featured the high school wrestling finals. Three HHS wrestlers qualified for the event: Brian Collins won two matches before being eliminated, Roen Waite won one before having to wrestle teammate Collins and being eliminated. But Jace Coe wrestled in the championship match and brought home the second-place medal. Congratulations to all.
