Heppner's JV volleyball girls proved their resilience to Grant Union during the games last Thursday, September 16. The two teams played a total of five sets, with the scores tied at several points throughout each game. Grant Union won the first set; Heppner won the second and then Grant Union won the third. In nearly each set, it was one point after the other, with Heppner scoring, then Grant Union and then Heppner again. The back-and-forth victories continued with Heppner winning the fourth and by the time the fifth set rolled around, the tension was high. By this time, the student section was growing. Heppner won the fifth and final set, claiming ultimate victory over the match and getting the gym fired up and ready for the Varsity game that was to follow. Although Heppner Varsity lost 0-3, this did not dishearten the Mustangs. The crowd was decked out in blue and gold, and the student section was the strongest it had been in a long time. Even as Grant Union's points climbed, Heppner's pep only climbed higher. When the games finished, all of Heppner's students, including the volleyball players, gathered together on the court to chant the school fight song. The players left the gym with their heads held high. Those who would like to support the Mustangs and see this newfound strength in the student section for yourself, the girls will be playing Pilot Rock this Thursday, September 23, at Heppner High School. JV begins at 5 p.m. followed by Varsity at about 6:30 p.m.
