CARD OF THANKS

We would like to sincerely thank our family and friends for offering heart-felt condolences and joining us to make the celebration of Archie Ball’s life memorable. With gratitude we thank BPOE #358 for hosting a delicious meal, friends who hosted spirits from the bar, the perfectly fitting table decorations and flowers, and kinship from Masons and Shriners.

A special thank you to all who shared many cherished in-person visits, phone and text conversations, and rides to the mountains to reminisce with long-time friends – Archie appreciated being able to share this time with you and it provided many days of happiness.

We are grateful to those who blessed us with support to manage the trials of living with cancer for the past two years. If not for the knowledgeable and compassionate care Archie received from his healthcare team – Dr. Nichols, Jesse, and Danielle; Amanda and the many staff with Morrow County Health District; Molly, Katelin, Jackie, Jerry and Kolleen with Pioneer Memorial Hospice; and Pat and Trish Sweeney, the journey would have been even more difficult.

With much love and appreciation – Diana Ball, Duane Ball, Andrea Fletcher and families.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE OF INTENT TO SUBMIT APPLICATION

Notice is hereby given that the City of Ione is in the process of preparing an application for Federal Assistance to be submitted in the next sixty (60) days to the U.S. Department of Agriculture Rural Development Office for assistance with proposed improvements to the City’s wastewater system.

Currently, the City of Ione does not have a community-wide wastewater collection or disposal system. Each residence and/or business has an individual septic tank and drainfield. The purpose of the funding application is to seek loan assistance and grants that would fulfill the required funding for the City of Ione to construct a new community-wide wastewater system. The project includes installing a new effluent collection system of small-diameter pipes, new individual septic tanks, a lift station and effluent forcemain, and a new community drainfield, as outlined in the Wastewater Feasibility Study Amendment adopted in 2021 by the City of Ione.

All interested parties wishing to present comments on the proposed application are urged to contact the City of Ione for information on the project. Project information including the Wastewater Feasibility Study Amendment and other supporting documentation are available for review at Ione City Hall 385 W. 2nd Street, Ione, Oregon.

bids for Riverside and Linden Way but had not yet received those. The company has not returned to do the striping on streets already paved. He also said he had requested a small city allotment grant to repave around the hospital but was not optimistic about receiving the grant.

The council also heard an update on a property on May St. The Oregon Department of Health had put a lien against the property. City Attorney Bill Kuhn said he had contacted the state and they had released the property from the lien on the condition that the property owner follow through with some paperwork. Kuhn said he had not been able to get the property owner to follow through on the paperwork. Council member John Bowles said he had been approached by another resident who was willing to help with that process.

In other business, the council heard from Heppner resident Dale Boyd, who expressed concern about semis and campers going up Chase St. to try to get to Willow Creek Reservoir and Willow Creek Rd. He said it doesn’t happen a lot, but there isn’t a good place to turn around, and it’s difficult for trucks and campers to back down Chase St. safely. Truckers following their GPS have already damaged a road sign and backed into a resident’s fence. There is currently a sign at the bottom of the hill indicating that it is not a through street.

The road does continue through at the top of Chase, but that part of it is owned by the Army Corps of Engineers, which has that portion gated off. Council members discussed whether it would be possible for the city or fire department to have access to the gate keys for such an eventuality but were told that was unlikely and that the process of requesting access could take years. It was decided to first see if there was a way to make the signage stand out more and see if that solved the issue.

The council heard a report on the city’s financial statement. Cutsforth noted that the budget looked good except for the price of fuel. “Don’t be surprised if that has to be corrected,” he said, referring to rising fuel costs. Doherty also pointed out that a new transmission for one of the city trucks was included in the public works spending. It was a one-time cost but, “I usually spend most of that budget without a new

Special guest to speak at chamber lunch meeting

The Heppner Chamber of Commerce will hold an all-entities luncheon Thursday, Nov. 3, from noon to 1 p.m. at the Gilliam & Bisbee event center. Joining the chamber as guest speaker will be the Executive Director of the Northwest Region in the Congressional and Public Affairs Division at the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Chris Eyler.

Eyler represents the U.S. Chamber of Commerce throughout the states of Alaska, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington and Wyoming and helps develop and implement the chamber’s grassroots, legislative and political activities in the area. He works closely with state and local chambers and members of Congress in his region to further the legislative pri-transmission,” he said.

In new business, the Heppner Dollar General submitted an application for a liquor license. The council voted to approve the liquor license for Dollar General.

In other business: Eric Chick gave the fire chief’s report in lieu of fire chief Steve Rhea. He reported two lift assists, four securements of the landing zone, three motor vehicle accidents, one mutual aid each for brush fires in Ione and Gilliam County, a brush fire in Heppner, a smoke check at Heppner High School, and a false alarm activation at Heppner Elementary School.

He said the false alarm was good experience for the fire department. “We got to work with the sheriff’s office and see their protocols,” he said.

He also reported one “possible” motor vehicle accident that they were unable to locate, and 15 fire chief calls.

Chick said they have been conducting prescribed burning around town and have been working on purchase of a Type 3 engine, which would be purchased through the rural fire department.

Undersheriff John Bowles reported 422 hours worked by the Morrow County Sheriff’s Office in Heppner and said that traffic stops are up. He also reported that Sheriff Matlack is retiring on Nov. 1.

Doherty gave the public works report. He said he had arranged for an employee to go to school in Pasco, WA to get his Commercial Driver License. The class would last five weeks and would cost $5,000 plus wages and per diem. The council discussed the need to have a contract saying that the employee would stay and work for the city for a set amount of time or have to pay back a portion of the cost of the CDL. Doherty agreed that might be a good idea.

The council also heard from Barb Orwick, who reported that the Neighborhood Center handed out more than 200 food boxes last month and has three new volunteers. She also said the Neighborhood Center has lots of Halloween costumes available and are gearing up for the annual food drive at the beginning of November. The center is looking especially for pop-top canned soups, chili, hash or things that can be reheated.

The Heppner Planning Commission reported that a resident on Frank Gilliam Drive had received a slight variance to build a large shop on his property.
