

'Hashbrown' to entertain at rodeo

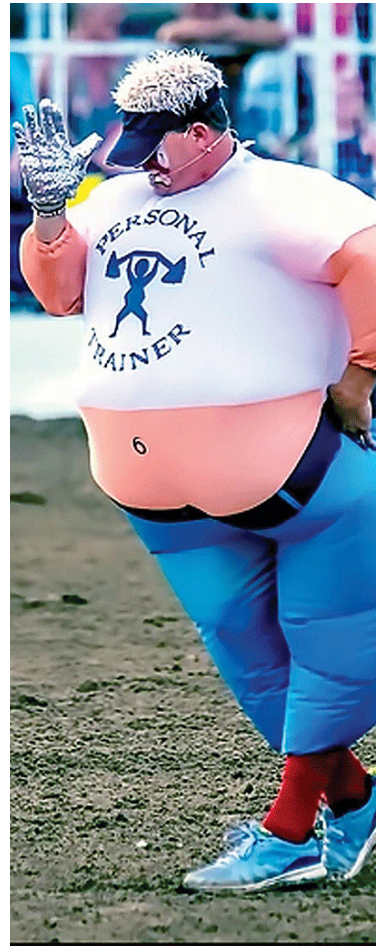

Joey "Hashbrown" Hackett is the rodeo clown ready to entertain the crowds at this year's Oregon Trail Pro Rodeo performances Friday and Saturday at the fairgrounds in Heppner.

From Redwater, TX, Joey is a home grown southern boy with roots going deep into Cajun country. A retired firefighter after 15 years of service, Hashbrown, made the transition to full time rodeo clown/ entertainer in 2009 and is a member of the PRCA. Rodeo has been in his blood since a child. Still a child at heart to this day, he plays with children at rodeos to encourage the interest in rodeo into the future. From the Glambulance, washing a dirty kitty, teaching dance moves, or a garage sale, you are going to be wondering what is next. Working rodeos all over the country, he brings southern family-friendly religious and Cajun humor to relieve any stress or worries your life holds. "You will never hear anything you can't repeat in church." "Comedy warms the soul and I'm bringing the heat!"

Don't miss this year's pro rodeo and you will especially want to see Hashbrown at the Friday 7 p.m. show and the Saturday 7 p.m. performance.

Come to the rodeo and enjoy Hashbrown's entertaining antics
