

Dance lessons Heppner

asm for dance, Paige knew she wanted to create something unique and inspiring. In addition to her dance background, she even took childhood education classes while in high school, proving her dedication to making a difference in young lives through dance.

Looking ahead, Paige has exciting plans in store for The Element Dance Company. With a performance scheduled for this coming December, her students can showcase their talent and hard work to a captivated audience. Additionally, new classes are set to begin in January. However, Paige's goal is to establish year-round dance classes once she secures her own building, and attend dance competitions, providing even more opportunities for dance aficionados in the community.

In an impressive display of commitment, The Element offers a total of seven performances for its students, featuring ballet, jazz, creative dance, and hip hop, all fittingly themed around Christmas. This diverse range of performances ensures that dancers of all styles and preferences can find their place in The Element family.

Located at the Sage Garden Preschool building, The Element Dance Company provides a comfortable and nurturing environment for budding dancers to explore their passions. With a meticulously curated setlist that includes popular artists such as Taylor Swift, Tom Hanks, and Justin Bieber, Paige aims to create an engaging and contemporary experience for her students.

Paige said "I want to thank Tayllor Brannon and Darcie Chick for letting me use their building. Thank you to my mom for being so helpful and thank you to the community for being so welcoming. I'm so excited to do what I love."

You can follow Paige's dance company on Facebook at Element Dance Company and on Instagram at ElementDance.Co
