MT. HOOD RAILWAY GETS NEW RIGHT OF WAY

The Mount Hood railway yesterday made an agreement with H. L. St. Clair for the purchase of one-fifth acre of land to complete their depot grounds between Roberts and Hood avenues. The track which has been laid to his line was at once extended, making a long siding or cattle track from Main street to beyond Hood avenue. Between these two tracks the depot will be placed. Other side tracks are being built west on Main street. A steam shovel will be put to work in the cut to supply gravel for halting the track and grading the depot grounds.

It will be necessary to move the St. Clair house a short distance south, as the railway property line will be a continuation of the south line of the Regner property, the house now being a few feet north of that line. So far as known this completes the company's property lines in this locality.

WORK ON DOWSETT BUILDING BEGINS AT ONCE

Work on the new Dowsett building, corner First and Main streets, will begin in a few days. The plans and specifications have not yet been completed nor has the contract for construction been officially awarded but it is expected that in a few days all will be in readiness to begin on the new structure, which promises to be Gresham's finest and largest for some time to come. In the meantime Contractor Sunday is removing the residence from the building site and it will be placed on property adjoining that of F. McMurray on Powell street.

The new building will be occupied by the Bank of Gresham, W. H. Bachmeyer, groceries and dry goods, Sterling-Johnston Hardware Company and a hotel conducted by W. H. Congdon, with a cafe and office on the first floor and sleeping rooms occupying the second floor.

Plans and specifications and an architectural drawing of the building will appear in The Outlook later.
