ROOSEVELT'S VISIT.

Roosevelt has come and gone. Portland is still left with a few "impressions" added.

If Roosevelt isn't profoundly in earnest he isn't Roosevelt.

It may be a little difficult to know what will please the colonel, but there will be no doubt about his attitude on the race suicide question after this. "I don't think they will jest on that subject for a while," said he after uttering scathing rebuke of a performer who was rather making light of the subject at the $10 banquet given in honor of Mr. Roosevelt.

ENLARGE OUR LIMITS.

Gresham's population, given in last year's census, is 540. There are few cities of its size and smaller which have so narrow limits. Enlarge our town limits a half mile or more in each direction and it would add nearly a third to our population and put us in a class with other cities which are more like this in volume of business.

Other well known cities whose population according to the census is close to that of Gresham are: Philomath, Canby, Oswego, Bend, Toledo, Mt. Angel, Dufur, Athena and Freewater.

Now that the town has privileges of water and sewer to extend there is all the more reason why those on the border should be ready to come in and be counted in the city of which they are practically a part.

MAN'S INCONSIDERATENESS.

Another mine horror, this time in Pennsylvania. An engine house catches fire and it is so located that it cuts off the possibility of escape for about fifty men. Another instance of carelessness similar to that of the New York fire where 150 perished because the ways of escape were cut off. An exchange from an Oregon city says the council is considering taking the padlocks off the jail doors on account of the danger of life in case of fire. This is only a little thing but is suggestive.

There is a tendency to depreciate human life. It is seen on our streets, in our factories, on our railroads. Injuries in damage cases cannot award too high damages in cases where persons have been injured or lives lost through carelessness. Raise the commercial value of human life and those who are liable will be more careful.

WHO CAN GUESS IT?

A farmer, presumably living near Gresham, has three sons. He came to town recently and brought the boys along. Each of the boys carried a basket. When asked what the baskets contained the farmer replied that the boys were going to sell a few sample apples. To the first the father gave 10 apples, to the next 30 apples, and to the third boy he gave 50 apples. Now said the farmer, sell the apples at the same price and all return with the same amount of money.

The boys started out and returned with the fruit all sold at the same price and each had the same amount of money. Solve the problem of how they did, and call at the Outlook for the reward.

The Lents Reporter, edited by Dals Simonson, reaches the Outlook office, announcing the goings on and riot of a bunch of "shameless individuals" from Portland. Somehow all the Portland people who come to Gresham are of the right sort and are welcome to come again.

A Valued Exchange.

The Chehalis county Vidette, published at Montesano, Wash., is a welcome exchange. It is one of four or five Junior Linotype papers which the Outlook receives in order to see what other Junior users are doing. The Vidette is an eight-page, six-column, all home print weekly. It is set in 9-point solid, is well made up, has a newsy appearance, lots of ads. and good headings. We miss its editorials but commend many other features, among them a little article headed, "Facts about Montesano." This we presume is a standing feature and it certainly contains in a nutshell what one can find in this hustling county seat. Another good feature is the absence of display ads. on the front page.

We notice the motto of the city is, "Meet Success in Montesano." We are told that this motto was suggested by Mrs. Belt, the wife of Dr. W. C. Belt, of Gresham who formerly resided at Montesano.

This paper to our minds meets every requirement of an up-to-date newspaper and is a standing evidence that the linotype way is the successful way.

The last copy of the Pacific Christian Advocate is a memorial number for its late editor, Dr. Daniel L. Rader. It contains many fine tributes to this man of fine thought and ability, who through many years poured forth his very best in loving service for the good of his fellow men. The tribute by his brother is one of the finest that could be written or read.

The Portland Automobile club decides to sell the club house and 28 acres east of here on the Sandy river and buy a tract better located, near the city. Why not invite them to locate at or near Gresham. They want a modern clubhouse and track.

Our friend L. D. Mahone of Portland was certainly in luck to hold a personal interview with Theo. Roosevelt. It is a perpetual pass which can be used as occasion offers.

Dalles Simonson, the former Gresham booster, has been elected publicity manager for the Lents Booster club.

Don't forget that the advertisements are a part of the news—read it all. In fact, read the ads. first.

During March, Portland exported 729,115 bushels of wheat; 98,995 barrels of flour, and 4,239,459 feet of lumber.

It's none too early to begin to think about a Fourth of July celebration and the reorganization of the Gresham band.

Experiments will be made at Stayton on irrigated land to determine if rice can be grown successfully in Oregon. The investigation is in charge of a government expert on rice culture.

Portland had a birthday this week, being 60 years old. Its municipal government was organized April 7, 1851, for on that date the first election was held. Then there was one precinct; now there are 155

Grants Pass has adopted a population mark of 40,000 by the next census. People of the Southern Oregon city are not going to sit down and wait idly for it to be realized but will work definitely toward that end.

Klamath county has set what appears to be a new egg record. Harry Caden had fifteen ordinary hens that laid 256 eggs last month. Six of the hens are pullets and did not begin to lay until after the first week of the month.

Receipts of livestock at the Portland yards for the first three months of the year show great gains over the corresponding period of last year. Totals were: cattle, 7,996; sheep, 25,018; hogs, 6,982. The increase over the first quarter of 1910 is: cattle, 247; sheep, 20,029; hogs, 2,053.

The Breeders' spring sale of blooded horses will be held in Portland, April 18-22. There promises to be a large showing of fine horses and some pure bred cattle will also be offered. Oregon, Montana, California, Iowa and Kentucky are among the states to be represented at the coming sale.

One of the most important of recent transactions in Portland is the decision of the big packing firm of Schwartzchild & Schulzberger to locate a $2,000,000 plant at Kenton. It is thought this will force other big concerns to do likewise and Portland will become one of the largest livestock centers on the coast.
