GRESHAM

Miss Lovelace, whose home is on the Base Line road, a teacher in the Boring schools spent Friday night with Miss Mary Hansen and attended the Commercial club entertainment. She will take a rest from teaching next year and continue her studies at Willamette University. Miss Lovelace is one of quite a number of young people in this vicinity who are seeking to improve themselves by higher education. This is a very commendable way to start out in life.

Mrs. O. O. Cone fell into one of the pipe line trenches last Thursday evening and sustained serious injuries.

Robert Doane, who has gone into the cement block business at Lents, was in town the last of the week. He reports a fine business at Lents.

Mrs. R. H. Todd bade goodby to her home duties and the biddies last Saturday and went to Portland for a few days' vacation. While there she visited with her niece, Mrs. Williams.

A very interesting meeting of the W. R. C. was held in the Grange Hall on Saturday, May 20. Dinner was served as usual. The names of several new candidates were presented for membership and balloted on. Two delegates were elected to attend the state convention which meets at Ashland in June. They are Mrs. Hanna Bond and Mrs. Nellie Hester; alternates, Mrs. Emma Schultz and Mrs. Hattie Wostell. Past presidents are also delegates of which there are six.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyers came out from Portland Sunday in their auto and took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Talbot.

Ed. Stubbs and family have arrived from Hood River and will spend a short time with Mr. Stubbs' mother. He has been re-elected principal of the Hood River district high school. This is his fourth year and he is evidently appreciated.

Magnuson & Nelson have another invention. They have succeeded in rigging up a drag saw to be run with a gasoline motor. This is their own contrivance and represents considerable skill and ingenuity. The machine works very successfully and illustrates what can be accomplished when a man sets himself to work to overcome difficulties.

Mr. and Mrs. Conkle of Portland visited the latter part of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Sterling.

Laura Preston has been visiting lately with her aunt, Mrs. H. Gibson, at Barton.

A very convenient little contrivance, the thought of our librarian, Miss Culy, and the work of Guy Jones, may be seen in the library. A hinged shelf which can be raised when the library is not open, has been fastened to the inside of the door just below a small hole. This makes it possible for patrons to return books at any time of day by simply pushing them through the hole and letting them drop onto the shelf. Then the librarian can check them off when she comes to the library.

The fourth body buried by the avalanche on the Mt. Hood railway was recovered Saturday and brought in that evening to Carlson's undertaking rooms. Monday morning Supt. Packer came down and identified each one and sent telegrams to relatives or localities where they were supposed to be known. Some of these men seem to have relatives or at least acquaintances who would be glad to care for the remains.

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Parsons entertained at Rose Alder Farm Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Judd of Portland. Mr. Judd's brother from the East, Miss Hazel and Earl and Ernest Lord of Tacoma, Washington nephew and nieces of Mrs. Parsons.

Rev. Dunlop was called to Latourville yesterday to officiate at the funeral of little Bessie Schultz, youngest child of H. E. Schultz. This is the third death in the family recently. Interment was made in Mountain View cemetery.

Mrs. Hattie Wostell's sister, Miss Agnes Sweet, of Boise, Idaho, is visiting here this week.

Fred Hoss met with an accident yesterday, while driving a wheel scraper. He was caught on the long lever while driving a load down the hill and thrown several feet, severely spraining his arm and laying him up for a few days.

Capt. C. O. Branson and wife have just returned from Riddle, Oregon, where they have been engaged in revival meetings. They will spend some time this summer on their place at Melrose, and will hold meetings at several points on the Salem electric and other places during the summer, but will make headquarters here. They have been very successful in the work the past winter, most of their services being held in southern Oregon.

Miss Ruth Dewey, niece of Mrs. Crow, and friend, Frank Bowder, also Mrs. Dollie Hogan of Sellwood, sister-in-law of Mr. Crow, visited here on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Crow spent yesterday at Sandy. They were quite at home in the neighboring town and are glad to see the many evidences of prosperity.

Miss Grace Lawrence, who has been attending the Behnke & Walker Business college of Portland for the past seven months, has accepted a position as stenographer and bookkeeper for the Gresham Drug company.

F. R. Burch of Portland, recently of Estacada, visited his brother, Rev. F. M. Burch, last week.

Chas. Kane and family of Portland visited the home folks, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kane, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kardell, Mr. and Mrs. Elkington, Mr. and Mrs. A. Dowsett went to Cazadero Sunday where they inspected the big dam, had a picnic dinner and incidentally caught a big load of trout.

Many young people and others from Gresham attended the exercises at the Terry school last night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Rowelliffe, of Eagle Creek, are spending a few days here with Mrs. J. G. T. Colley. Mr. Rowelliffe returned to his farm at Eagle Creek yesterday.

Whitney Manning, a nephew of Y. P. Manning, visited with his uncle here Sunday. He was returning to his home in Montana after spending a year in Berkeley, California, where he attended the State University.

Miss Grace Hessel is spending the week in Estacada.

Rev. S. F. Pitts will preach in the Free Methodist church next Sunday morning in the absence of the pastor, Rev. J. A. Hopper, who will attend the District Quarterly meeting at St. Johns.

J. E. Kronenberg of The Dalles with his wife and children spent Sunday with the Mannings.

Fred Conley of Portland spent Sunday in Gresham visiting his father, John Conley.

The following services at the Baptist church next Sunday: Sabbath school as usual, Roy Shumaker, superintendent. There will be no preaching services in the morning as our congregation will attend the baccalaureate services at the M. E. church. Evening sermon by the pastor, Rev. F. M. Burch. Topic, "The Light of the World."

C. R. Keller has severed his connection with the Multnomah and Clackamas County Mutual Telephone company as manager, but still retains his position as director. Mr. Dowsett is acting as manager until the company can make other arrangements.

Poultry Notes.

Spokane imported from the middle west last year 150 carloads of eggs besides large quantities of poultry. There were produced at the home territory $9,000,000 worth of poultry and eggs. The demand in the west is double the supply.
